

ROOSEVELT THREATENS TO BOLT

Delegates Will Ballot Tomorrow for Candidate for President

WARREN G. HARDING

WHO WILL PRESENT NAME OF PRES. TAFT TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

QUESTION OF SEATING DELEGATES CAUSED LIVELY DISCUSSION AT CONVENTION

of excitement about the convention hall.

Mail For Bryan

James Preston, in charge of the press section in the convention hall, came in with a big bundle of mail in his hand.

"The Coliseum postmaster" wanted me to help him get out the newspapermen's mail," he said. "It's all for one reporter, W. J. Bryan."

Senator Clapp of Minnesota, one of the Roosevelt delegates at large from that state was early in arriving at his place on the convention floor.

Spectators' seats on the floor and in the galleries were not half filled when Chairman Root appeared at his desk at 10:45.

Soon after Chairman Root had arrived on the platform he was flanked on one side by Gov. Hadley and on the other by James Watson. As a preliminary to the day's expected hostilities all three shook hands and retired to their corners.

Gov. Hadley and Watson arranged for an equal distribution of the three hours' debate that was to be allowed on the Roosevelt proposition to substitute a roll containing 92 Roosevelt delegates in place of 32 Taft followers seated by the national committee.

Before calling the convention to order Chairman Root and the other officers of the convention posed for batteries of photographers. This helped to delay matters several minutes beyond the scheduled hour, 11 o'clock. At that time many delegates' seats were vacant.

Called to Order

Chairman Root finally pounded the table with his gavel at 11:15 and ordered the sergeant-at-arms to clear the aisles. A swarm of delegates and alternates wandered aimlessly about the hall in search of their seats.

Surrounding Gov. Deneen's seat for 15 minutes before the call to order were the Roosevelt leaders in earnest consultation. In the group were Senator Dixon, Gov. Hadley, W. A. Flinn and Gov. Johnson of California.

Prayer Offered

Another 15 minutes passed before Chairman Root again took up his gavel and with emphatic blows on the table insisted upon quiet and order.

Much of the confusion was due to late-comers.

Then pounding the table, Root announced:

"The exercise—I mean the business of this day will be opened with prayer by the Rev. Joseph Stolz."

The delegates and alternates and every person in the galleries arose and stood during the invocation.

Senator Root announced the unfinished business of the day—the motion of Watson that the convention proceed to the appointment of the regular committees and the sub-motion of Gov. Hadley that the Roosevelt list of 92 delegates be substituted for that of Taft delegates.

Cheers for Hadley

As Gov. Hadley advanced to the front of the stage to open the debate a round of cheers from the Roosevelt forces greeted him.

When the tumult subsided Hadley began an explanation of the question confronting the convention.

He reviewed the events of yesterday leading up to the ruling of National Committee Chairman Roosevelt which quashed the Hadley motion to purge the temporary roll.

"We could have met immediately and forcibly this arbitrary and unparliamentary ruling," said Hadley, and he was roundly cheered.

"It may be true that there are many persons who do not agree with us," Theodore Roosevelt should be our candidate for president but there can be no difference of opinion that his voice today is the greatest of the western world."

He then read a statement from the 11 members of the national committee protesting against the action of the majority in seating many of the delegates, particularly in the California, Texas and Washington cases.

Republican Party Threatened

Gov. Hadley made an earnest plea that personalities be left out of the debate, declaring the question was so clearly one of principle that it should not be involved by anything else. It was not a question of any man's candidacy, he said; not a question of the next campaign, but embraced the very existence of the republican party itself.

Hadley was again given the closest attention throughout. In closing he declared that when the vote of the sub roll call came he would contend that on the question submitted only those delegates whose seats were not contested would be allowed to ballot.

"All law, all precedents agree," he said, "that no man should be a judge in his own case."

Argues For Taft Delegates

Hadley was followed by W. T. Distell of Washington, who argued in favor of the Taft delegates seated by the national committee.

Mr. Distell characterized as "recklessly false" the statement credited to Col. Roosevelt that an effort had been made to steal the Washington delegates. As one of the Taft delegates from the state he declared there was no primary law in Washington.

"The declaration is utterly false," he declared.

Applause from the Taft men greeted this statement.

The recital of what Mr. Distell said were the "facts" as to Washington aroused the ire of Roosevelt delegates. He was interrupted with groans from the Roosevelt forces when he declared:

"When it was discovered the night before the state convention that the Taft forces were in control the adherents of Mr. Roosevelt declined to come to the convention because they knew they were beaten."

The clerk, for the information of the convention, then read the list of the delegates which the Hadley motion would strike from the roll and the list of those it would seat.

When the announcement was concluded Henry J. Allen of Kansas was presented to speak in support of the Hadley motion. The chair announced that he had been allotted 20 minutes.

Mr. Allen discussed the Washington cases in some detail, denouncing Distell's statement as flimsy. Allen frequently was cheered by the Roosevelt delegates and laughed at by the Taft men.

Despite the occasional discourtesies to speakers, it was apparent the temper of the delegates was much better than yesterday. The tension seemed to have relaxed everywhere.

After being interrupted several times Allen shouted at some of the Taft tormentors:

"You haven't got anything until this convention is over. Then the Lord only knows what you've got."

"Are you going to abide by the decision of this convention?" shouted a delegate from Colorado.

"I'll answer you later."

"Answer me now."

"The floor was in an uproar."

"I'll answer you," he answered, "I'll answer you," shouted Allen, his face growing red and his voice husky. The delegates stopped yelling long enough to hear him.

"I want to support the nomination of this convention, but—"

At the "but" the cheering and jeering broke out afresh.

"I'll support him," shouted Allen, "only on one condition—that his nomination is not accomplished by fraud and corruption."

Delegate Newcomb of New York made a point of order against further interruptions of the speakers and Chairman Root held it well taken. The chairman made a special plea for fair play to the speakers.

Allen dealt in the figures of the primary held in Seattle. He said Col. Roosevelt had got all but about 500 of the 8000 votes cast.

A delegate asked how many voters there were in Seattle. Allen admitted there were probably more than 100,000.

Allen denounced the methods of the Washington state leaders at the state convention saying that the conditions were such that all Roosevelt men were barred from the hall. He denounced the national committee as unfair and prejudiced and then took a final swipe

WHO WILL NOMINATE COL. ROOSEVELT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

With interest so intense as to almost preclude applause the republican national convention at noon today was in the midst of a three-hours' argument on the motion of Gov. Hadley to purge the temporary roll of 92 delegates contested by the Roosevelt faction but seated by the national committee.

It seemed likely that the debate on the question would last all afternoon.

at the credentials committee, which as yet remained to be named. "They ask us," he said, "why we don't wait for the committee on credentials to pass upon our case. I'll reply by asking you, why don't you wait until your horse is stolen before you lock the door?"

Allen was followed by former Senator Hemenway of Indiana for the Taft forces.

The funeral of Frank M. Dowling took place from his home in Congress street this afternoon. Mr. Dowling was clerk of committees and clerk of the common council under the old city government and enjoyed a large circle of friends who admired him for his honesty and integrity as well as for his splendid knowledge of affairs in general. The present city government and the governments of former years were well represented at the funeral.

CAUSED BY FIRE

Talc Company's Plant a Complete Loss

NORTH ADAMS, June 19.—For a second time within two years the plant of the Massachusetts Talc company at Zear, principally owned by Fred R. Daggatt of this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The buildings were new and about 100 feet long. The loss is about $45,000, fully insured. Mr. Daggatt lost his coat in the fire. He had time only to get to the company's books in the safe, which is lying in the burning ruins. The engine house of concrete was gutted and the machinery ruined.

Col. Roosevelt in a speech to his followers intimated that unless the "fraudulently elected" delegates are unseated by the national convention, he and his supporters will bolt. Gov. Hadley and other Roosevelt leaders stated that they will stand by the nominee. The vote on the presidential nomination will be taken tomorrow.

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 19.

The Coliseum was a scene of empty chairs at 9:30 o'clock when the band in its perch near the roof struck the opening note of the morning concert. A file of policemen came in through a side door, stepping lively to the march time. The bluecoats took their places across the front of the hall, where the line held back surging crowds yesterday; and delegates and spectators began to filter in through the doors.

Before 9 o'clock the Wabash avenue doors of the convention hall were besieged by telegraph operators, newspapermen and messenger boys who were denied access. The tickets issued for Tuesday's session were rejected by the doorkeepers and for a time it appeared that telegraph wires would lie idle in the basement. Sergeant-at-Arms Stone finally produced 300 forgotten badges from his safe and these were distributed in the crowd outside the Annex door. There was a rush for them, and it required the assistance of the policemen to see that only authorized employees secured the coveted passes.

The air of nervousness that hung over the convention police and employees yesterday was curiously absent today.

No one knew then what to expect; today the patrolmen chatted and laughed, secure in the belief they could handle easily any situation that might develop. In the box reserved for special guests there were several early arrivals.

At ten o'clock less than 200 spectators were in the hall and but eight of the delegates' seats were occupied. Although the convention faced the real struggle of the Roosevelt leaders to obtain control of the permanent roll of delegates there was a noticeable lack

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

Address Delivered by Rev. Fr.
Brogan—Monsignor O'Brien
Presented Diplomas

"Death Before Dishonor" is the class motto of the class of 1912 at Notre Dame Academy, where eight young women were this morning presented their diplomas. The commencement exercises took place in the chapel of the institution, where a solemn high mass was celebrated. The weather was ideal for such an occasion, and many took advantage to attend and congratulate the young women on their successful career. The graduates presented a very fine appearance, being neatly attired in white and wore veils. They came from all parts of the state, as well as from New York and New Jersey, which shows that the academy is widely known as a reliable educational institution. Among the guests present were a large number of relatives of the graduates from out of town, and seated in the sanctuary during the mass were Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R.; Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, and Rev. Farragh A. Brogan of St. Anthony's church, Cohasset, Mass. The diplomas were presented by Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R., while the address was delivered by Rev. Fr. Brogan.

Previous to the mass, which was celebrated at 10 o'clock, a brief reception was held at which time the graduates were showered with congratulations and best wishes. At 10 o'clock

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Lovers of good music are turning out in large numbers at the Merrimack Square theatre this week to greet The Temple Players in their farewell appearance of the season. Their offering is a bright novelty called "A Night at the Cabaret," in which pleasing musical numbers and other happy features are combined in a most enjoyable series of amusements. Miss Grace Hawthorne's number, "The Nightingale and the Star," is the best of the many good things heard. The other members of the cast are especially good. The piece is adequately staged. On Sunday afternoon and evening these players will appear in their biggest hit. It will be their "good-bye" performance for the summer.

To replace The Temple Players, Manager Carroll is indeed fortunate in being able to secure the Harvard Stock Company, a high class aggregation of players who are to appear in the best and most popular plays of the present day. Among those who are to appear will be Henry Grady, Charles Stevens, who is well known here, Richard Simmons, George Robinson, William Malong, Valerie Valaire, Adelaide Nye, Marlene Francis, and others who have enjoyed numerous successes in stock. The presentation for the first three days of next week will be "The Bill of Virginia," a story of the Blue and the Gray. For the last three days of the week "Ismael," or "In the Depths," will be given. The management wishes to announce that the same policy, regarding prices and a continuous performance from 1:30 to 10:30 o'clock, daily, will be continued. The same high class series of photo-plays and illustrated songs will be given with the presentation by the stock company. The other members on this week's bill are exceptionally good. LeReux, Impersonator and character change artist, is a leader in his class, and Claude Austin, comedy juggler, is almost amusing. The photo-plays are in keeping with the other high class features of the bill. Remember this theatre is the "coolest spot in town."

all repaired to the cozy little chapel of the academy, where solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Timothy P. Callahan, who was assisted by Rev. John J. McHugh as deacon and Rev. Joseph P. Curran as subdeacon. The academy choir, ably assisted by the orchestra, rendered an appropriate program of music during the service, which consisted of the following numbers:

Immediately after the reading of the gospel, Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R., presented diplomas to the following young women: Miss Anna Madeline Brodine, Revere; Miss Mary Christina Brogan, Lowell; Miss Catherine Gertrude Dingley, South Lawrence; Miss Christina Rose Gately, Lowell; Miss Regina Cecil Lyons, Dorchester; Miss Ebera Helen Mosher, Worcester; Miss Blanche Veronica Ross, Asbury Park, N. J.; Miss Mary Elizabeth Schantz, Rochester, N. Y.

Rev. Fr. Brogan's Address

Following the presentation of the diplomas which were bound with a white ribbon, the class choir, Rev. Farragh A. Brogan of Cohasset, Mass., spoke to the graduates. He said:

In coming to say a few words of advice to you today, hoping they may find a welcome reception in your minds and hearts, I cannot but reflect on the well high innumerable last words spoken to June graduates since schools began graduation exercises on this continent.

I cannot avoid the conviction that these "last words" of advice given by masters of intellectual culture, and social experience, were welcome by the then graduates as guiding stars along the path of their succeeding efforts of the future; and yet, were they carefully watched and held fast to, in life's efforts afterwards, even in part, they would have changed long ago, the intellectual, moral, social and religious standards of the country, for the better.

As human beings, we have, as a common inheritance, the tendency to seek that which gives happiness, and avoid that which gives pain, and no doubt, many, if not all of you graduates here today, in the year 1912, like those in the other years of the past, enriched by the sound, moral and religious training in this highly efficient school, are looking forward with joyful hopes of securing that happiness to yourselves as you journey through life.

The avenue to happiness are peculiar to each individual, depending on personal tastes, either natural or acquired. To some the acquisition of wealth means happiness, to others, social or intellectual conquests—the various professions, and etc.

To point out the guiding principles, or the besetting dangers, to the working-out of a happy and successful life, in each case, would carry us too far afield, but there is one fundamental principle—the cornerstone of any structure we build for a happy and useful life, which, if kept well before our mind, must give us that success to which all of us alike tend.

St. John, whom we all venerate, gives us that principle—that cornerstone in the structure of life's happiness, when, ripened with the experience of high one hundred years of service to his fellowmen, went from village to village, city to city, addressing a last word to all, "My children, love one another."

In these few parting words, he sums up the substance of life's real happiness here; for other things being equal, the conditions that obtain for 'happiness hereafter, obtain for happiness here.

Those devoted to the various professions, to the various business callings, etc., are better, more successful, and their path through life made more pleasant, if their thoughts and actions speak of justice and charity in their daily relations with their fellowmen. In fact, this principle, as it sums up the greater number of the ten commandments, sums up all the parting words of counsel we receive from our superiors and well wishers at graduation.

It is rare to read a baccalaureate address that does not in some way imply the things that this principle speaks for, "Love one another," not the sensual, changeable sentiment; but the full possession of the sentiment of justice and charity towards all, that they may feel the happier in life's journey, because they met us on the way.

The church has carried this doctrine through the world with her wherever she is, and has preached it for two thousand years. The world has not taken heed, so that we see the wars that have destroyed so many lives, and brought, in all cases, misery to the more fortunate living, come down to our day with high the same stern menace to the world's peace, as in the days of paganism, when "An eye for an eye" and "A tooth for a tooth" was the guiding principle of nations, as of individuals.

The leaders of intellectual and political thought today are beginning to look upon this world wide evil in the light of this principle of St. John, so that peace movements, arbitration councils, national and international in their scope, are now in the day of practical politics.

Through the influence of good leaders, such movements may bring us to the day when it will be impossible for one nation to wage war on a weaker one, and we will kill human beings to satisfy a misunderstanding, or a selfish design of a ruler, or of a government.

It has taken the world from the beginning till the present time to formulate a remedy for the evils of war. That remedy, the church offered it two thousand years ago, but the world spurned it until now. Gathering wisdom from its proud and selfish blindness through the ages of the past, it is now bestirring itself in the interest of peace and harmony among nations, and indeed bows to the salutary doctrine of the church, the doctrine of peace, justice, charity, the doctrine that complies with the principle of St. John, "Love one another."

The other great problems that confront the world today—the evils of socialism and divorce, are no problems to the church; she has the remedy and preached it before all the countries of the world, and is still preaching it to their undiscerning ears.

Some day in the near future, the world will read in a judicial spirit, the record of its mistakes and condescend to accept the church's remedy.

But, my friends, as nations are made up of individuals, it is safe to say that unless the individuals, composing the nation are imbued from youth with sound principles of justice and charity, the day in which the voice of the church will be listened to and followed, is yet far distant.

Whence arises the differences and quarrels among men? Final analysis of each case will say: selfishness or misunderstanding or both. The injury done through rash judgment is incalculable, for we meet it at every effort for good we undertake and must needs waste the energy destined for other ends to overcome it. It makes life unhappy for the individual, and so it does for society. It has kept the world back, and the church hampered in its mission of distributing the principles upon which happiness depends. The most important feature of education today, is that during our school and academy days, we lay the foundation of reading ourselves aright, and also, those who are along the path of our life's efforts. As the ancient philosopher said, "Know thyself," and the modern philosopher adds, "Know the others too." Thus the unconscious selfishness, the poison of happiness, may be exposed and expelled from our character; and we will look upon the failings, or apparent failings of our fellow beings, with that charity of which St. John speaks. We will search for the beam in our own eye, before we are sure we see the gnat in our neighbor's; we will acquire a happy disposition, and live in peace with all. This council of St. John we can follow with success and happiness in any occupation we may choose for our life's work. Peace is akin to happiness, and contentment, no matter how apparently laudable, is akin to unhappiness. The principles upon the youth of any country, until they form the foundation of their character, must speak for the prosperity and happiness of that country, for the prosperity and happiness of all the individuals which make it up.

You all stand for justice, and an honest effort in your relations towards the world today to make it more blessed and happier, because you are in it. Encouraged by the years of intellectual and religious training you have received here, you are looking forward with joyful anticipation to the years of the near future, that will prove a blessing to yourselves, to your companions, to the parish you live in, an honor to God and your Alma Mater.

Let us know ourselves and those we deal with, and we will be true to our selves and them. "Thus above all, to thine ownself be true." And it must follow, as this night the day. Thou can't stand, then, be false to any man. "My children love one another."

At the close of the mass the Te Deum was chanted by the choir and as the graduates were leaving the chapel the orchestra played a recessional.

The ushers at the church were: Messrs. John and Francis Brodine of Revere, and Arthur Sherman of this city.

Following the service was a brief reception at the close of which the graduates and the guests repaired to the exhibition room, where a very fine collection of paintings and needle work from the hands of the members of the 1912 class was on exhibition. It included some of the best master pieces of oil paintings and the fancy work was the subject of much praise from all who had the pleasure of seeing it.

The graduates presented the academy a beautiful class picture which was gladly accepted by the Sisters. They will leave tomorrow for their respective homes, taking away with them the best wishes of their teachers and classmates.

LAWN PARTY HELD BY ST. MARGARET'S PARISH

At the New Kasino At- tended by Over 3000 People

Affair Was a Huge Suc- cess--Rose Pageant a Feature

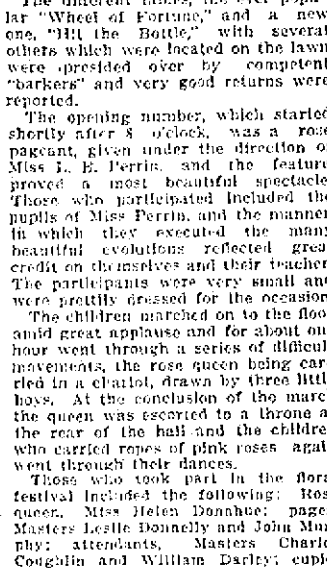

REV. CHARLES J. GALLIGAN
Pastor

The lawn party at the new Kasino dance hall yesterday afternoon and last evening, under the auspices of St. Margaret's parish proved to be one of the most successful social affairs ever conducted in this city. In the afternoon the children held forth and had a very enjoyable time. There was a very large attendance.

In the evening, though, the attendance was the largest that ever visited the place, over 3000 people being present. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, while the lawn, which was well illuminated and beautified by many tables, added much to the picturesqueness of the resort. The affair served as a reunion, and all participants assisted in making the party a banquet.

Rev. Charles J. Galligan, the popular pastor of the church, was greatly pleased with the success of the event, and he was busy during the evening receiving the congratulations of his many friends. Rev. Henry Beardon, curate at the church, was also present, and he too was gratified with the large attendance and the success of the party.

Rev. Daniel Kelleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, and Rev. Fr. Lee of Leominster were among those present, and both clergymen greatly enjoyed the festivities.

The different tables, the ever popular "Wheel of Fortune," and a new one, "Hit the Bottle," with several others which were located on the lawn were presided over by competent "barkers" and very good returns were reported.

The opening number, which started shortly after 8 o'clock, was a rose pageant, given under the direction of Miss E. E. Perrin, and the feature proved a most beautiful spectacle. Those who participated included the pupils of Miss Perrin, and the manner in which they executed the many beautiful evolutions reflected great credit on themselves and their teacher. The participants were very small and were prettily dressed for the occasion.

The children marched on to the floor amid great applause and for about one hour went through a series of difficult movements, the rose queen being carried in a chariot, drawn by three little boys. At the conclusion of the march the queen was escorted to a throne at the rear of the hall and the children who carried ropes of pink roses again went through their dances.

Those who took part in the floral festival included the following: Rose queen, Miss Helen Donahue; pages, Misses Louise Donnelly and John Murphy; attendants, Misses Charles Coughlin and William Doherty; cupid, Master John Bagley; rose maids, Patricia McEvoy, Doris Woodward, Mary McEvoy, Adelaide Cheney, Nellie McEvoy, Elizabeth Riley, Nora Hasty, Irene Conway, Star Ryan and Helen Bradley.

nile Rossen, Hazel Malorey, Della Bacon, Bertha Wright, Grace Jordan and Lottie Vinal.

Following the march a solo dance that was exceptionally well done was given by Miss Perrin.

The floor, which was in excellent shape, was then cleared and general dancing to the irresistible music of the Kasino orchestra, of ten pieces, James H. Buckley leader, was enjoyed until midnight, when all pronounced the affair the most successful in the history of the new parish.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL PLANS TO TAX THE CORPORATIONS

Hearing Held Last Night and Counsel for the Companies Opposed the Measure

A hearing on the proposition for the city to levy a tax upon public service corporations using poles and wire attachments of $5 a year rental for all future poles and $1 a year for each wire attachment was given by the municipal council last night, and for corporations, the N. E. T. & T. Co., the Lowell Electric Light corporation, the Bay State Street Railway, company, and the Postal Telegraph company were represented by counsel, all of whom were opposed to the proposed ordinance.

It was claimed that the city did not have the right to levy an annual assessment as contemplated by the ordinance, though it set forth in the ordinance that all the city desired was that the expense of the wire department be defrayed by the corporations, because the department would not be necessary but for the corporations.

Commissioner Cummings outlined the purpose of the ordinance in the beginning, and said that the ordinance was not proposed for the purpose of obtaining a revenue for the city. "All we ask," said Mr. Cummings, "is a revenue sufficient to meet the expenses of the wire department. I want to say that since the ordinance was introduced the city clerk has communicated with several other cities in the state for the purpose of ascertaining if such an ordinance exists in any of the other cities, and as far as we could learn no ordinance of the kind has been drafted in any other city." Commissioner Cummings said that the cost of maintaining the wire department, or the amount allowed this year for that department was $355.

Mr. E. K. Hall, representing the N. E. T. & T. Co., began his argument by showing what his company does, directly and indirectly, for the city. He said that the company pays directly a tax of $7343 and that the state rebates to the city of Lowell the sum of $1608.27 because of residents in this city holding the company's stock. "The company allows the city 53 free telephones, representing $2613," said Mr. Hall, "and the company reserves one duct in its conduits for the city, free of charge, and in the whole city we have set aside 150,000 feet of ducts for the use of the city, and that represent 32 per cent of everything we have put in here. In other words, the company has invested $38,219 in Lowell for the sole use of the city and for which the company gets no return. One-fifth of our pole space is set aside for the city as we reserve space on all of our poles for the use of fire alarm and police signal wires.

Mr. Hall said the gross revenue in 1911 was a little over $300,000. "And we give up more than 9 per cent of all the money we collect for the purpose of doing business here. I think that is about as much as any citizen ought to do."

"I assume that you wish us to do business here because we are useful to you. Is there any other corporation doing business here, aside from a public service corporation, which gives you so much?"

He said that the company had 2481 poles in the city upon which are only its own wires, and 3702 other poles on which it has attachment space. "Supposing the company is asked to pay $5 for each pole that is erected?" asked Mr. Hall. "Who is going to pay for that pole? Is the subscriber? And why not? The company is now probably losing money on its resident service. It is not making anything, any way. To ask this company to pay that money means a curtailment of service. It can mean nothing else. If there is a right on the part of the city to put up a tax on the poles to be set up in the future, then there is no reason why the tax should not be placed on poles already erected."

"We are ready to do business in Lowell if we can supply it at the rate which has been asked, but this company would not care to continue service at the rate if it has to pay the extra expense of erecting poles."

"Under your charter can you refuse telephone service?" asked Mr. Barrett. "Not when we can get the proper facilities."

"Why should we be obliged to maintain a wire department and who should bear the expense?" asked Mr. Cummings.

"For the same reason that you keep a street department for the people who have teams. The streets are for the general public. You wouldn't ask the people doing business on the streets to support the street department. You get better construction by having somebody to look after the work."

"The city puts a tax on automobiles," said Mr. Barrett. "Why not the city on pole locations?"

"Because it is not within the province of the city to do that. It is a debatable question, that of the right of a city to collect from a public service corporation."

Mr. Hall did not correctly understand the ordinance. He thought it meant a tax on all poles, present and future.

Ald. Cummings explained that only future poles were to be taxed, and Mr. Hall said he did not believe that any ordinance levying a charge on newly erected poles would be valid.

"The state can do a great many things which municipalities cannot," said Mr. Hall. "Whatever the state does is uniform. It has been very careful not to put burdens on these public service corporations. You can imagine that unfair advantage might be taken of some of the corporations."

"On these corporations ever take unfair advantage?" asked Mr. Barrett. "I don't think so. If I understand your question."

Mr. Hall said that 23 per cent of the original investment of the company amounted to nothing to the company, because it is furnished free to the city.

Mr. Barrett said the tearing up of a street for the laying of conduits would cost the city something.

G. P. Wardner of the Postal Telegraph company asked if the ordinance would apply to poles which would take the places of poles which had already been set in locations. Mayor O'Donnell said such was not the intent of the ordinance.

Continuing, he said that the further question arises. A year ago he had appeared before the government asking for underground rights. This was denied. Now the city wants to charge the company for running wires above ground.

Mr. Barrett said the request was denied last year, because to have granted it would have meant the ripping up of a costly street.

Mr. Wardner said the present ordinance does not meet the requirements of a just division of the charges among the various wire companies in the city.

"I am afraid that at some future time the city of Lowell may say it does not like the locations we have, and may assign other locations, and may charge us for each pole and each attachment," he said.

"Don't you think we are required to give you a new location?" asked Mr. Cummings.

"Yes; but as a matter of law, I think some others might not be as fair as you, and might decide that we should pay."

"What if the wire department should be abolished?" asked Mr. Barrett. "We keep our wires in a safe condition."

Francis W. Qua, representing the Lowell Electric Light corporation, said tax of $7343 and that the state rebates to the city of Lowell the sum of $1608.27 because of residents in this city holding the company's stock. "The company allows the city 53 free telephones, representing $2613," said Mr. Hall, "and the company reserves one duct in its conduits for the city, free of charge, and in the whole city we have set aside 150,000 feet of ducts for the use of the city, and that represent 32 per cent of everything we have put in here. DOCTOR RECOMMENDS 'CUTICURA' FOR BAD CASE OF PIMPLES

Sufferer's Face in Such a Condition He Was Ashamed to Go Out, Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

3390 Third Ave., New York.—"About three months ago my face and neck became covered with small red pimples which later developed into large boils and my face was in such a condition that I was ashamed to go out of the house. After using Cuticura recommended by the druggist I went to a hospital for treatment. The head physician at the hospital told me I would have to report for three or four months for treatment before the boils would even start to disappear. A young physician while treating me recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment and told me to treat my face every night before retiring with both the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. By following his advice I did not have to go to the hospital for more than a week and a half. The results obtained were far better even than the physician expected and I was completely cured in a short time by the use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I also found that both nurses and physicians at the hospital used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (Signed) Fred Vishneyer, Sept. 7, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning, bleeding, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humors, of young and old. A single hot bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle scrubbing with Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing cases and permit rest and sleep when all else fails. Indispensable for those who suffer from poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, itchy and falling hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. book on the skin and hair. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

he is opposed to the ordinance for two reasons. Firstly, he does not believe the city has any legal right to make such an ordinance, and secondly, if it has that right, it is not good policy to frame such an ordinance.

The supreme court has held in a St. Louis case that a rental fee could be charged for pole locations. The reason was that the charter of St. Louis was established by the freedmen, the constitutional convention giving them the right to write a charter as they saw fit. And the supreme court said this situation is unique among American cities. That is a very different situation from what exists in Lowell, he said.

The development of the telephone, telegraph, electric light and street railway had been greatly to the benefit of this city. As the business has developed it has been necessary to regulate the business. Again and again the legislature has passed acts regulating the traffic, and it has not been deemed wise that a municipality should not pass rules of its own, apart from the laws enacted by the state.

"It is strange," said Mr. Qua, "that no other city has taken a step of this kind." He suggested that appeal be made to the legislature to have a law passed empowering not Lowell alone, but all the cities of the commonwealth, the right to have their wire departments maintained by the public service corporations.

Benjamin N. Johnson, also of the Lowell Electric Light corporation, said he didn't believe the ordinance as drafted would be held valid by the court. The members of the municipal council talk one way, he said, but reading of the ordinance does not point to the intent as indicated by council members.

He characterized the proposition of the commissioners as perfectly fair for anything we have granted you," but said it is an open question that such a proposition will be held legal.

"Here you are," he said, "advocating an equitable division of the charges. One company, the Postal, has in all the poles it needs, therefore that company only wants to be assured that poles erected in the past will not be touched."

Mr. Johnson criticized the use of the word "minimum" as it appears in the second paragraph of the ordinance, on the ground that it makes the second paragraph to conflict with the first.

"If it wasn't for the fact that one of the departments has an automobile we should be forced to hire one to make inspections of wires," said Mr. Cummings.

Clement K. Lamson, representing the Bay State Street Railway company, said at the outset that, as a point of law, the council has not the right to charge an assessment for pole locations or for wire attachments, a point which he would not argue at the time.

Mr. Cummings requested Solicitor Hennessy to make a statement. "As a matter of law we cannot charge you for anything we have granted you," said Mr. Hennessy. "But this ordinance is based upon the Chicago case, a ruling on which was handed down by Chief Justice Knowlton, and although it is but an obiter dictum, it carries stupendous weight."

"We included the minimum charge in the ordinance because the pole locations of the future are to be fewer, while the actual work to be done by the wire department will increase. If we place a maximum charge the time will come when we cannot get enough from these companies to support the department."

LYNN WON FROM LOWELL 10-8

Visitors Got Jump and Held Lead All the Way

Lowell and Lynn met at Spalding park yesterday and although there was a brisk wind blowing across the diamond and the weather was not ideal for baseball there was an attendance of about five hundred. While some of the enthusiasts were chilly during the game the majority of those present were of the "red hot fan" order and they became so interested in the game at times that they managed to work up enough of warmth to forget that they were wearing hats, and light clothing instead of fur caps and heavy sweaters.

The players worked under difficulties owing to the wind but the game, on the whole, proved to be a good one. Lynn was confident of winning the game owing to the rather one-sided game between Lynn and Lowell at Lynn Monday morning, but the Grays were out to do a good job on the people who play ball near the beach and put up a good opposition.

Blum, the new pitcher, started for Lowell, but after three innings he was sent to the bench and Zeiser took up the task. The latter pitched great ball until the last inning when the visitors with an error by Loneragan, got 3 runs and the game.

Loneragan played a good game, despite his error in the ninth, and his home run with one on was the feature of the game. Capt. Boutles was off at the willow and several times the fans got to him. Umpire Lanigan did not like some of the pet names that were "shot" at him from the side lines, and complained to Manager Gray, who "called the officer."

The final score was 10 to 8, and will go on the books as a game that Lowell should have copied.

The game in detail:

First Inning

Lynn started off by scoring one run in the first inning. O'rcutt, the first man up, fouled off to Lavigne. Strands struck out but Lavigne dropped the ball and recovered it in time to throw the runner out at first. McGovern drew a free pass. Murch got a scratch single. Cargo followed with a single to right field and McGovern scored. Logan was third out, Boutles to first.

In the latter half of the inning Clemens singled to left garden and went to second on Miller's sacrifice. Clemens then tried to steal third but was nailed, though the decision was a very close one. DeGroff was third out on a fly to Logan.

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 1.

Second Inning

In the second inning Wallace struck out and Weeden singled to centre field. Waller got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. O'rcutt singled to left field and the bases were filled. Strands and Weeden tried the squeeze play and Strands was out. Blum to first while Weeden scored. McGovern drew a base on balls. Murch hit through Boutles and Waller scored. Cargo was third out, Loneragan to first.

There was nothing doing in the latter half of the inning, although it looked at one time as though the home team would score one or more runs. McGovern sent a grounder which McGovern gathered in. Margee then sent the ball to Logan and was out at first. Boutles walked. Loneragan singled to left field but he died on first for Lavigne struck out.

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 2.

Third Inning

In the third inning Logan singled to left field and Wallace walked. Weeden hit to Boutles who threw sharply to first but the runner beat out the ball. Waller singled to left field and Logan scored. O'rcutt fled to Clemens but Waller scored on the put out. Strands then followed with a nice hit to left and Weeden crossed the plate for the third run during the inning. McGovern hit to Loneragan who threw to second, getting Strands and the ball was sent to first for a double play.

Nothing doing for Lowell, the home team going out in one, two, three order. Monahan batted for Blum and he went out, Logan to first. Clemens struck out. Miller was third out on a fly to Murch.

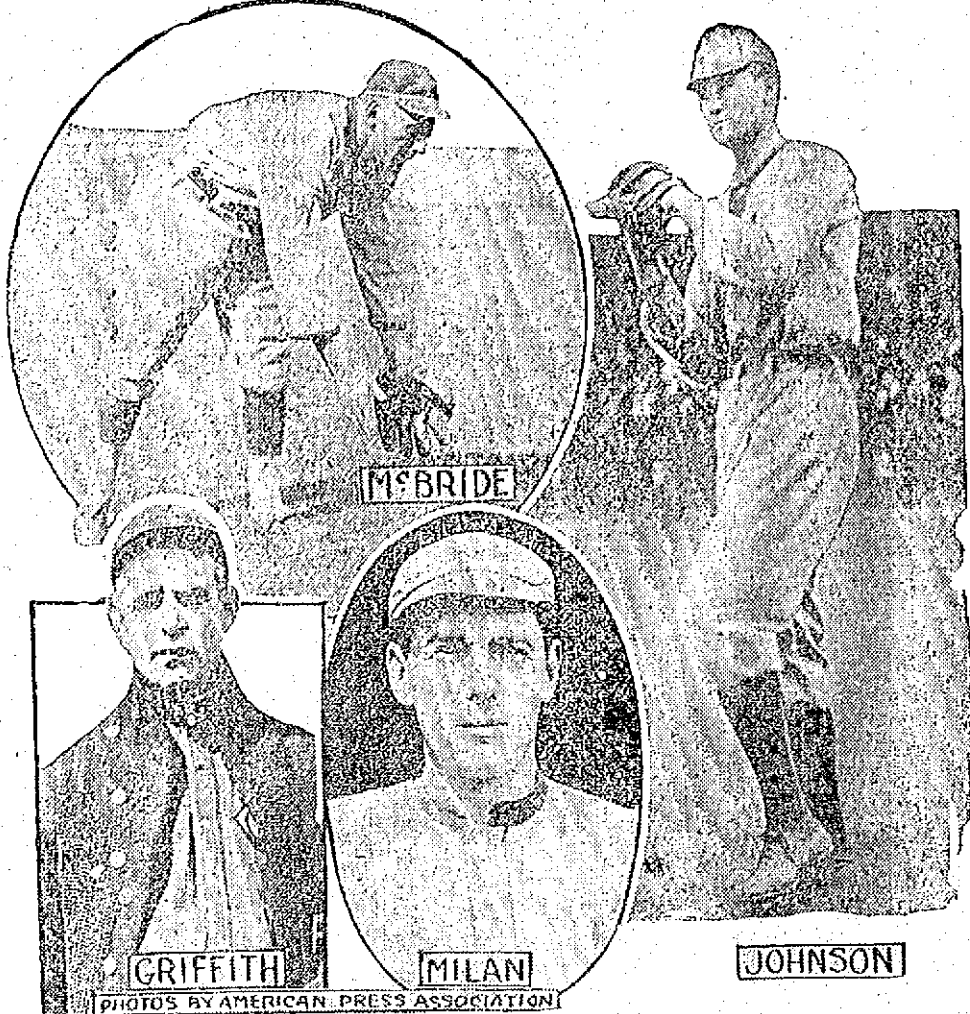

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 3.

Fourth Inning

Although Lynn scored one in the first, two in the second and three in the third and it was thought that it might follow in sequence and make it four in the fourth, the visitors failed to send a man across the plate in this inning.

Blum, who pitched the first three innings, was relegated to the bench and found that Zeiser, who took his place on the mound, was putting up a better game. Murch, the first man up, was hit by a pitched ball and that looked bad at the start but the Mexican, after getting his arm limbered up, calmed down and Cargo sent a grounder to McGamwell and was out at first. Murch got to second. Logan felled to Lavigne and Murch subsequently stole third, but he died there for Wallace was third out on strikes. Loneragan, the crack shortstop of the Lowell team was the star of the game for in this inning he showed that he could handle the willow in a manner which might result in turning defeat into victory. With the score 6 to 0 in the fourth he slammed the ball into the remote corner of the right field fence for a home run and besides scoring himself and Margee, a total of two runs, he also had the honor of making the first home run within the confines of the grounds and incidentally is entitled to his share of Bull Durham tobacco.

De Groff was the first man up and he singled to left field and went to second on McGamwell's sacrifice. Margee singled to right garden and De Groff crossed the plate for the first run for Lowell. It was expected that Boutles would follow up the good work but Jake could not understand Waller's curves and he died on strikes. Loneragan was the next man up and although there was a cheering he went to the plate with the determination of doing something in order to save the home team. The first ball pitched proved to be a strike on the batter. It was a case of gloom with the Lowell fans. Waller then sent the second ball and Loneragan swinging his bat slammed it. The contact of the bat and the ball made a resounding noise which could be heard for a distance and although it looked as though the sphere was going over the right field fence for a home run, it dropped just inside the fence in the extreme corner and while Strands was doing a regular Bennie Wefers run for the ball, Margee reached the plate and

Star Members of the Washington Team
Now the Big Sensation in Baseball

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

That old joke about Washington being first in war and peace and last in the American league race is not of any use whatsoever this season. Maybe the Senators will give everybody the laugh and capture the pennant. The showing of the Washington team this season is the biggest sensation in baseball history. The Senators have made the greatest away from home record ever established by a major league club, having won 16 straight games. Fifteen of these contests were ensnared on western diamonds, and all but four of them were won by comfortable margins. Washington has been so used to occupying the tail-end position in both the American and National leagues that it is hardly believable that they are in their present exalted position. The showing is all the more remarkable as Clark Griffith, released as not sufficiently capable by both New York and Cincinnati, is the man behind the winning combination. Moreover, his team is largely composed of youngsters. Walter Johnson, who is vying with Joe Wood of the subsequently Loneragan scored, it being one of the nearest home runs made this year. Lavigne closed the inning by flying to Strands.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 5.

Fifth Inning

Another run for Lynn in the fifth inning. Weeden was the first man to bat and he made his third consecutive hit, it being a single to right. He went to second on Waller's sacrifice. O'rcutt hit to Loneragan, who threw him out at first. Strands singled to left field and Weeden scored. Strands tried to steal second and was thrown out by Lavigne.

In Lowell's half Zeiser drew a base on balls and Clemens singled over second base. Miller followed with a strikeout. DeGroff also struck out. McGamwell hit to Logan, who tagged second, getting Clemens.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 7.

Sixth Inning

There was nothing doing for the visitors in the sixth inning. McGovern started out by slamming the ball to Loneragan who after making a pretty pickup threw him out at first. Murch picked a fly which looked like a safe hit but "Lonny" was there with the run and the mitt and he after making a long hard backward run gathered in the sphere. Cargo struck out. Margee struck out. Boutles fled to Wallace, in deep centre field, the latter

Score: Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Seventh Inning

Logan fled to Miller. Wallace felled to Boutles who gathered in the ball after making a hard run. Weeden fled to Margee.

In the latter half of the inning Miller struck out and Weeden dropped the ball and the runner beat the ball to first. Miller stole second and went to third on a poor throw by the catcher. De Groff struck out. McGamwell hit to Logan, who threw home but Miller slid in under the ball, Margee fled to O'rcutt. McGamwell stole second. Boutles struck out.

Score: Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Eighth Inning

In the eighth inning Waller hit to Miller and died at first. O'rcutt struck out. Strands hit to Zeiser and died at first.

Loneragan was the first man to bat and after getting two balls, made a strike, got a foul strike and then went out on strikes, it being the tenth strikeout for Waller. Lavigne fled to Strands. Zeiser fled to Cargo.

Score: Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Ninth Inning

McGovern drew a base on balls. Murch was hit by a pitched ball and went to first while McGovern went to second. Cargo struck out. Logan singled to left and McGovern scored. Wallace hit to Miller and was out at first. Weeden hit to Loneragan and fumbled and Murch and Logan scored. Waller hit to Miller who threw Weeden out at second.

Clemens beat out an infield hit and reached first. Miller also beat out an infield hit, and reached first. De Groff went out on a grounder to McGovern, both men being advanced. McGamwell doubled to left and Clemens and Miller scored. McGamwell went to third on a wild pitch. Margee drew a base on balls. Boutles fled to Logan. Margee tried to steal second and was thrown out.

COMMENCEMENT DAY AT NORMAL SCHOOL

State Commissioner of Education

MR. CYRUS A. DURGIN
Principal State Normal School

Address to the Graduates Delivered by Dr. Snedden of the State Board

The commencement exercises of the fourteenth class of the state normal school of Lowell were held in the school hall at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The weather conditions were ideal for the exercises and many out of town people, parents and friends of the young graduates, were present and looked with great pleasure upon the happy young graduates who received their diplomas.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, potted plants, ferns and streamers of the class colors, blue and gold, being artistically arranged around the assembly room. The other rooms of the school were also decorated. The exercises opened at 2:30 o'clock and the graduates, dressed in white, marched from an adjoining room to the school hall.

The exercises were then formally opened with a chorus from the "Pirates of Penzance." Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education of Massachusetts, was the speaker and his address followed the introductory number.

The class gift to the school was a garden gazing globe and the presentation speech by Miss Irene Margaret Simmons was a very neat one. The class motto was "Self conquest is the greatest of all victories." The decorations in the school hall and in other rooms include roses, pinks, and field daisies.

The complete program of the exercises was as follows:

country. "At this very hour, in a western city, the forces of conservatism and radicalism are lining up for the beginning of the great contest. What the end will be, cannot now be said; but it is a fact that the problems to be solved by the citizenship of the United States in the next 10 and 20 years are going to be so great as to reduce those of our day to insignificance. And the boys and girls that the commonwealth trusts to your care are to be the men and women to solve those problems. We know that they will rise to the occasion and so instruct those boys and girls in the ways of good citizenship, as to make them competent to handle the great civic problems of their day."

Dr. Snedden's Address.
Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education, Boston, was the principal speaker. He spoke in part as follows: "We feel a warm interest in commencements, and I think our interest is keenest in commencements which are held for those about to take up some vocation. In the home and in the school life is largely planned and ordered for one; but in the beginnings of a vocation the young worker has herself to assume large responsibilities. As our American education is organized, the youngest and most inexperienced teachers have in some ways to assume the largest responsibilities. Many of the graduates here will next autumn find themselves in schools where they will have little immediate help from superintendents and principals and where they will be obliged to face their problems by themselves."

But our interest in today's graduates is the greater because we realize that all, or nearly all, are going to meet their responsibilities in country and village schools with a considerable degree of success, and we are assured that those who render the world valuable service as teachers will grow strong and wholesome through such service. Men and women are shaped partly by home and by school, but the finer qualities demanded by civilization are also produced in large measure by the spirit and effectiveness with which one's vocation is followed.

Outside the making of the home, teaching is the most important calling undertaken by women. In America, we have allowed women almost a monopoly of that profession. Probably over 75 per cent of American boys and girls never have a male teacher. None of us can wholly approve this condition of affairs, but such a condition will prevail until public opinion as to school changes in some substantial way. Of the half million teachers in the public schools of America over 400,000 are women; and on them rests in large measure the development of better methods and materials in and for their work.

Teachers no less than men and women in other callings can be divided into classes. There are those who do their work from day to day with little interest and with little hope, slaves to a treadmill routine and kept to their tasks mainly by fear of want. There are others—and we have, fortunately, all known them—who find in their profession the deepest and most sustained pleasure that life has to offer, because in their work they bring themselves most closely in touch with the large and significant things of country, society, and the universe. The live teacher, as much, certainly, as any other worker, is a creative worker; a possible artist; but the teacher who merely holds a job is one of the least admirable of all the drudges of civilization. We hear it sometimes said that teachers are born and not made. As a flat statement this is not true; it is a fact, of course, that some persons are more highly endowed with certain gifts of sympathy, intuitive understanding and interest in childhood, than others; but all persons possess in some degree the teaching or guiding instinct and only perverted spirits do not find themselves vitally and eager to help childhood in its growth.

I believe that all young teachers are as capable of directing and controlling their own development in the direction of live and growing efficiency as they are capable of preserving and improving their bodily health. That they do not more often do so is no more proof that it cannot be done than is the wide prevalence of ill-health proof that a large percentage of our population must unavoidably be subject to early decay and death.

Many teachers allow bad professional habits to overtake them early. They fall into fixed ways of doing their work, of living and of diverting themselves; they lose their interest in their own professional growth and rapidly harden into the type that the keen superintendent knows as the unamiable, unprogressive and undesirable. For these the work of teaching becomes very hard; their very faces harden disagreeably, reflecting the drudgery and monotony of their lives. They become popularly characterized as "typical school marm."

But every one who enters the profession of teaching has it in her power, in some slight degree at least, to keep herself flexible, receptive, growing, vital. The sympathies, interests, and insights that combine with temperament to produce the composite we call personality are all susceptible of prolonged cultivation. We are even able in a measure to control and promote the development of our ideals, and without vocational ideals whatever calling we follow becomes drudgery.

Among the many teachers from contact with whom you have profited, select certain examples. Analyze the qualities which have made them effective. You may not discover all the factors of their success, but some cannot escape you.

The live teacher is almost certainly one who supplements her intense educational interests with a few that are somewhat remote from her daily work in literature, or art, or science, or social work or travel, she has cultivated a hobby, which becomes an avocation and which serves not only for recreation but which also serves to give rest, balance, and poise to her vocational preoccupation.

In her chosen work she seeks independence of the restricting influences of environment—and the stimulation to growth that comes from new responsibilities in new locations. She is not the teacher who in the early years of her career sought a place in her home town where she could live at home. She realized keenly the educational value of new surroundings. This live teacher may not be widely read in her profession, but she has kept abreast of its literature in some one field. She is also known as one who has something to give in an active way to organized effort among her co-workers. She is mentally alert, gathering, taking positions of leadership where she can, and follows helpfully where stronger people lead. Especially has this live teacher kept alive her human sympathy, her interests in the personal flowering of youth. She is self-disciplined, though she does not show it superlatively. She preserves the learner's wholesome attitude.

What of the other—the teachers who are not fully alive to the problems into an early decline as regards their professional powers? There are many of them, and Massachusetts has, unfortunately, its share. You have all met them. They are the reproach of the profession. As a rule, they are not of bad moral character, as judged by prevailing standards. But they have allowed themselves to go to seed early. They are mentally stunted, stunted because of lack of care and intelligent self-cultivation. They fret over matters of form and irrelevant detail. They are the teachers who in their selfish interests above the welfare of the schools, dress and gossip and personal recognition are among the trivialities of life in which their shrunken souls are apt to become absorbed. They are cynical about professional improvement, and to them the children of the people are ever becoming less manageable, attractive and promising. Critical and carping, they seldom respond to helpful supervision heartily, thus tempting the development of arbitrary methods and imposed rules on the part of administrators seeking the progress of the schools.

Now, I am convinced that in large measure teachers are and can be

"For dark and discolored skin, enlarged pores, blotches and other facial blemishes a simple lotion made at home is highly recommended. Dissolve an original package of maystone in a half pint witch hazel and rub a little on the face, neck and arms each morning. This is better than powder, for it tends to correct faulty complexions and makes the skin soft, smooth and youthful looking."

"Plain pyroxin applied to thin and straggly eyebrows with finger tips causes them to grow in thick and beautiful. Eyebrows which come in long and curly if pyroxin is applied to the roots with forefinger and thumb."

"A dry shampoo refreshes the scalp, removes dust, excess oil and dandruff, and leaves the hair beautifully fluffy, light and lustrous. To make the shampoo powder, mix four ounces of powdered orris root with an original package of therax. Sprinkle a teaspoonful on the head, brush it out thoroughly—and you will be delighted with the result."

"An effective and satisfactory method of removing superfluous hair is to apply delatone paste to the hairy surface, allow to remain two or three minutes, then wipe off, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. To make the paste, simply mix powdered delatone with water."

SURVEYORS AT WORK ON STREET SURVEYS

In Connection With the Abolition of the Grade Crossing in Middlesex Street

The survey work in connection with the abolition of the grade crossings in Middlesex and Fletcher streets and Western avenue is going on at the present time. The railroad engineers are working in Middlesex, Fletcher, Chelmsford and other streets in the vicinity of the Middlesex street station and they are working in connection with City Engineer Kearney's office so as to avoid disagreement on street lines and street surveys.

The expense of abolishing the Middlesex street crossing has been estimated at more than half a million dollars but all estimates at the present time are more guess work. The fact that the engineers are making a survey does not necessarily mean that the work of abolishing the grade crossings will start right away. It will be necessary to have several hearings before the railroad commissioners and after all plans have been submitted by the engineers for the railroad and the city engineers, the commission will issue a decree as to what plans shall be followed.

The law abolishing the grade crossings was passed in 1903 and the first decree issued by the commissioners included the abolition of the School, Walker and Plain street crossings. The next will include the Middlesex street, Fletcher street and Western avenue. The railroad has not yet arrived at any definite conclusion as to what changes will be made in the appointments or position of its station in Middlesex street. It may be allowed to remain as it is, it may be elevated or it may be given a new location. "The company will have lots of time to think about that," said one of the engineers when asked relative to the station.

A MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN DALY'S COURT

State Police Will be Asked to Investigate

What threatened to be one of the worst fires that ever occurred in this city broke out about 11:15 o'clock this morning in a stable and carriage shed in Daly's court belonging to Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department. The fire had gained much headway before being discovered, but when the alarm from box 35 was sounded the firemen were soon on the scene and after laying several lines of hose the blaze was extinguished.

The building is a one-story structure with a frontage of about 50 feet and is used for the storing of carriages and horses.

The fire started in the apartment used by Avelis M. Toriglian, baker, grocer and fruit dealer at 125 Charles street and 39 Gorham street. A hand-some baker wagon he had received from the factory and another carriage were totally destroyed, while one of his wagons on the outside was badly damaged. He figures that his loss will be about $400.

How the fire started is a puzzle.

to Deputy Chief Sullivan and Saunders, both of whom were on the scene and directed the members of the fire department. When the firemen arrived at the place the flames were shooting through the building and up in the air and threatened surrounding property.

The state police will be asked to come to this city to make an investigation.

TELEPHONE GIRLS GET 8 HOUR DAY

New Working Day in Effect Jan. 1

Late yesterday afternoon Pres. Keller of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company announced his findings and conclusions with reference to certain requests submitted to him by a committee of his operators a month ago, and it is expected that the directors he has given will settle all the issues that have been raised.

Those findings and directions may be summarized as follows:

A working day of eight hours for operators, to become effective not later than Jan. 1, 1913.

No operator to be assigned to "split tricks" after 15 minutes of service, except upon request.

By July 1, 1913, a readjustment of hours and wages to make this non-compulsory "split trick" service more attractive, and until such readjustment all "split trick" assignments shall include an allowance of carfare covering one round trip from the central office to the operator's home.

Five minutes or more beyond any working time shall be regarded as overtime and paid for at overtime rates, any such period up to 30 minutes counting as a half-hour overtime and "time off" in lieu of such overtime not to be permitted.

The rule providing for 15 minutes' rest in all working periods of more than three hours shall be strictly enforced.

Finally, the right of appeal is retained so that any operator feeling aggrieved may bring the matter to successive superiors, even if the appeal must come to the president.

Several weeks ago the company put into execution a 2-weeks' vacation system, with pay, instead of 10 days, and also provided that all Sunday and overtime work shall be paid for at the same rate as overtime work, that is, at the rate of time and a half.

WOMAN SAID BLUEBERRY PIE MADE HER ILL

BOSTON, June 19.—Annie J. Wilson of 49 Elmwood street was awarded $2916 damages against J. G. & B. S. Ferguson company by a jury in superior court yesterday before Judge Lawton. She alleged injury to her health due to eating a blueberry pie made by defendant. The defendant claimed if the plaintiff was injured it was due to a condition that developed after the pie left the bakery.

Several weeks ago the company put into execution a 2-weeks' vacation system, with pay, instead of 10 days, and also provided that all Sunday and overtime work shall be paid for at the same rate as overtime work, that is, at the rate of time and a half.

After the court had considered the case, the defendant was given a suspended sentence of three months and placed on probation for the same period on the case of assault and battery, the case of drunkenness being placed on file.

Defendant Was Defaulted

FRENCH OFFICERS KILLED TODAY

Biplanes Collided With Terrific Force

DOUAI, France, June 19.—Captain Dubois and Lieut. Peignan, both officers in the French army and trained aviators, met tragic deaths this morning when the biplanes they were piloting round the military flying ground, collided with terrific force in mid air.

The two officers, who were close friends, were unable to perceive each other while flying through the early morning haze which was very dense in the vicinity of the aerodrome, where they started practising soon after day-break. As they turned a curve their machines collided with an awful impact as they were traveling at a high rate of speed. The wire stays and canvas wings became interlocked and the two biplanes crashed to the ground, where they were smashed into a mass of wreckage.

The large ledge, which for many years has been a landmark at the corner of Chelmsford and Sheldon streets is being removed and a sidewalk is being laid out.

THE SILVER JUBILEE OF ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE

Reception to be Held Next Friday Evening—Exhibition of Work of the Pupils

Twenty-five years ago the Sisters of Charity came to the city of Lowell and established St. Peter's orphanage, and although they would prefer that no mention of the fact be made, a silver jubilee committee, with Miss Susan Flynn, chairman, was formed and a reception will be tendered the good women of Nazareth in recognition of the remarkable work accomplished by them since coming to this city.

The committee worked untiringly on the arrangements for the affair and planned to hold the reception and musical on May 30th, but owing to sudden illness breaking out at the institution, the event was postponed until Friday evening of this week. As the children were to have an entertainment of their own at which their work with the needle was to be exhibited to their friends, the bandwork, will be in evidence on Friday evening.

There are 58 children at the orphanage at the present time, this being the largest number ever registered at the institution. All are exceptionally clever with the needle and each will have an article to display at the reception.

The reception will be held in the assembly hall, from 7 to 9 o'clock, which will be decorated for the occasion. An excellent musical program will be given and the presentation to the sisters of the home will be the concluding feature.

The sisters and the members of the committee in charge of the affair are greatly pleased with the manner that the public assisted them in the arrangements and also for the very generous contributions received.

SEN. ROOT CHOSEN CHAIRMAN OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION TAFT SHORT OF MAJORITY

SENATOR ROOT

CHICAGO, June 19.—In the first of the convention battles between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt yesterday the president won and lost. Sen. Root of New York, the Taft candidate for temporary chairman, was elected, but by a margin so narrow as to leave Mr. Taft himself in a minority.

The vote between Senator Root and the anti-Taft candidate, Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin, stood: Root 558; McGovern 502. The rest of the votes cast were scattered.

A bit of simple arithmetic will show where that vote leaves Mr. Taft's own candidacy.

Mr. Taft received the votes of seven Illinois delegates, eight Maryland delegates and three Oregon delegates who are under instruction by popular primaries to vote for Mr. Roosevelt when the balloting for president comes. There you have a total of 18 votes, which must be subtracted from Mr. Taft, that reduces the possible Taft vote to 540, which is precisely the number necessary to a choice.

Taft Weaker Than Root

It has always been assumed, however, that Mr. Root's candidacy for the temporary chairmanship was stronger than Mr. Taft's candidacy for the nomination. This was discounted by the Roosevelt management and conceded by the Taft leaders. The senator is admired on all sides for his abilities, and scores of delegates reluctantly voted against him and for a man they did not know in accordance with Mr. Roosevelt's command.

It has been seen that 18 members of three Roosevelt delegations refused to do it, but how many more in other delegations, aside from those of Illinois, Maryland and Oregon, who will be with Mr. Roosevelt on the main issue, refused to go with him on this subsidiary question, and strike down the distinguished senator in his candidacy for a transient honor, it is impossible to calculate.

For instance, it must have been a hard trial for some of the 13 New Yorkers who voted for Mr. McGovern to go against their eminent colleague and it is easy to believe the Roosevelt assertion that there will be several more Roosevelt votes in the delegation when the ballot for president is taken.

In fact, Mr. Roosevelt himself forecast Mr. Root's election Monday night and conceded against him before the convention was called to order. He took care to warn his followers not to be discouraged by such an event, and told them he would be weaker on this test than on any that would follow.

Root's election, however, is the high-water vote of the Taft campaign. It is the biggest card in the pack. When the Taft men play the credentials committee report they cannot hope to do as well and they may not take the trick at all.

At least the Roosevelt delegations from California, Texas and Washington, which the steam roller crushed too early, will rise again and give the machine a worse hour than it had yesterday. It will be difficult for the Taft forces to hold a majority against some of these contests when the credentials fight comes upon the floor of the convention. If they should lose then all will be lost. For without the Texas or the Washington vote the president's cause would have been beaten yesterday.

Now what strength did Mr. Roosevelt show? There were 520 delegates who did not vote for Mr. Root. They are all anti-Taft. But on the first ballot 3 of them will be for Senator La Follette and 10 for Senator Cummins. That leaves 474 for Mr. Roosevelt.

To that total should be added, however, the 18 instructed Roosevelt men from Illinois, Maryland and Oregon, who went over to Mr. Root, which brings the Roosevelt strength up to 492, or nearly 50 short of a majority.

He must make up the difference through gains from the Root vote. But he will not have to win on the first ballot. The Taft candidacy is strictly a first-ballot proposition, but it is not so with Mr. Roosevelt. More than this it is neither prudent nor necessary to say at the present writing, although it must be said that the Roosevelt people are visibly discouraged by the slight showing they made in the southern delegates.

MISSION A SUCCESS

CONDUCTED BY REV. FRAS. SULLIVAN AND McDERMOTT, O. M. I.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church, and Rev. James T. McDermott, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart church, returned home last evening from New London, Conn., where they preached a mission at St. Joseph's church. The church is one of the most beautiful in that section and overlooks the Thames river.

The mission occupied two weeks and was brought to a close Sunday evening. During the two weeks the newspapers of the city gave considerable space to accounts of the sermons, and the services conducted by the missionaries, and it was pronounced the most successful mission ever conducted in the city. At all the services the congregations taxed the capacity of the edifice, and many conversions were reported.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

SEMI-ANNUAL SCHOOL PROMOTIONS

Now that Superintendent Whitecomb of the school department has secured a permit to retain office at least to the end of the term for which he was elected, it would seem incumbent upon him to plan some changes that are very necessary in the schools during the coming year. One of these is to provide special classes for pupils who through one cause or another are unable to keep up, and who in the past have been disposed of by sending them to the transient school. The other is to abolish the present system of annual promotions, and inaugurate a scheme for promotion every six months. There will naturally be some difficulties connected with such a change, but none that should not be easily solved by an experienced superintendent.

The schools have suffered for a great many years as a result of this lockstep system of promotions that keeps the children of the same grades together as in a chain-gang, taking them over the course from the beginning to the end of the year, then sending on those who are sufficiently advanced, and throwing back the pupils who are not prepared to go on. This method of retardation or of putting pupils back to do a whole year's work all over again is vicious in its results in every aspect in which it is considered. It has given Lowell more truants than are credited to several other cities nearly as large as Lowell, and it is an abuse upon the children, an injury to the parents and to the city.

In this matter the schools have been running themselves to a great extent. Several of the principals have noted the evil and of their own accord tried to meet it by providing special classes in which backward children receive the attention they need, while the brighter pupils get an opportunity to go ahead. These expedients, however, are optional and voluntary with the principals of the schools. It remains for the superintendent to adopt a system that will not be merely a suggestion of what should be done but a definite proposition to be introduced and enforced for the benefit of the schools and the citizens who are paying their money for something they do not get. The teachers are ready to carry out any instructions they may receive in this direction.

This is necessarily the work of an expert; something that the school board cannot be expected to do, but it is what the superintendent is paid for, and what he should do without delay. Had a more flexible system of promotions been adopted several years ago we should not now have to wrestle with the problem long after other cities have solved it and proved the advantages of getting rid of the old method of promoting the children in mass.

If, when a grade has gone over the first half of the year's course, it be found that a pupil therein is not able to keep up with the class, he might be left in the first half for another six months so that failure of promotion would not thus be so repulsive as to drive the boy out of school altogether.

In some cities promotions are provided for every three months, so that there is no bar to the pupil's progress. This is as it should be, and after we get semi-annual promotions we may eventually reach the same goal thus shortening the grammar school course, and enabling the average pupil to finish it at the age of fourteen, something that is not very common under the present plan. The age of the pupils on entering the high school at present is nearly fifteen years. That means that the boy or girl who leaves at fourteen does not finish in the grammar school.

THE SITUATION AT CHICAGO

Unfortunately the first round of the opposing forces at Chicago, although favorable to Mr. Taft, is not indicative of the real strength of the opposing candidates. Some delegates favorable to Roosevelt voted for Root as chairman and some of the Taft delegates, it is alleged, voted on the opposite side. Thus, the vote of the convention showing 558 for Root and 552 for McGovern gives but a very uncertain indication of the real strength of the conflicting forces. The real test will come in the roll call of the convention as this will show just who is for Taft and who is against him. On the whole it would appear that with reasonably good leadership and a courageous fight the Taft forces should win out. The margin will be so small on either side, however, that there will be absolutely no reasonable pretext for a bolt. Consequently we expect to see one of the candidates nominated with such a small margin as to leave little or no ground for protest by the other candidate. In our opinion, however, it matters but little which gets the nomination as his chance of election will be exceedingly slight, if the democratic party puts up a strong candidate. Roosevelt has the turbulent element of the republican party with him, and that is probably all he can control even if he gets the nomination. The solid men of the party have lost confidence in him, and we do not believe that they will ever support him even though he gets the nomination for president. That would inevitably mean a democratic victory.

TOO MANY BOSSES

There is a good deal of fault found about the slow method of doing the work on the Market street bridge. That thoroughfare is closed while the work is in progress, and it would appear that it will be closed for a considerable time. It is to be hoped that this will not be another case similar to the Lawrence street job, which obstructed public travel for nearly a year.

There is another complaint, and one which we believe is not without foundation, and it is, that there are too many ornamental bosses in the street department. When one boss is employed for a gang of two men, and he simply goes around directing their movements without doing anything himself, it is no wonder at all that the people complain. That does not seem to be an economical method of doing the city's business. Bosses, of course, are a necessity, but when they are too numerous, and when they are employed where they are not needed they are a needless source of expense.

Repeating rifles and Gatling guns are being used against the 3000 strikers at Perth Amboy, N. J. With these weapons the local authorities hope to be able to control the strike without calling in the militia. It is a serious situation when the authorities have to adopt such methods and when as a result the strikers are counting the number of victims after every outbreak.

The appeal of Thaw's aged mother in his behalf may have more weight with some of those who pass upon his case than the testimony of the alienists. She recently passed her 70th birthday with her son in a room at the Westchester county jail where he is held pending the outcome of a hearing upon his sanity.

Roosevelt is against the bosses who are opposed to him, but if they turn to his side he will take them to his bosom.

Seen and Heard

Just now, while the spirit of conservatism is abroad in the White Mountains, Eugene R. Musgrave, a native of that region, has not only the voice, but also the poetry of the "white hills of New Hampshire," should be conserved. To that end he has compiled 137 poems referring to them. Whittier, Lucy Larcom, Treadwell, Edna Dean Proctor, Emerson and Longfellow being some of the best known.

Mr. Newell, the millionaire, was furnishing the library of his magnificent mansion. "Let me see," he mused. "You've got the order for the $25,000 edition of Dickens bound in leather?"

"Yes, sir," replied the bookseller. "And the $10,000 set of Shakespeare?"

"Yes, sir." "And the standard authors, bound in calf—Blackberry, Scott, all of them three other fellows?"

"Yes, sir. I have a memorandum of the entire list." "Well, then, that's off my mind," said Mr. Newell with a sigh of relief. "Now, what I want is something to read. Say, have you got a complete set of 'Old South'?"

Lucinda, an old colored servant, was visiting a former mistress. "Well, Miss May, how is per? I jus' drapped in ter see how you al were an' to tell you 'bout de gran' wedding we had at our house las' week."

"Tassum, my granddaughter Lilly done got married an' it sure were a fine wedding. She had a white dress, long white veil, white flowers in her hair, an' or white bokay. An' de presents, Miss May, an' de wedding cake an' de wine—oh! chile, it shore was fine!"

"Yes," replied her mistress. "I'm sure it was, but how about the groom, how did he look?"

"O, ye mean Rastus! Lor' chile, why, Miss May, yer know dat 'foney colored man didn't show up, he never came nigh, but dey sarilily did have fine presents."

Tell me no more tomorrow will be fair.
For youth is fleet,
Give me my pleasure now, the rose to wear,
While life is sweet!

Tell me no more tomorrow will be glad.
Today is long,
Give me my rapture now, my heart is sad,
I need the song!

Tell me no more tomorrow will be gay.
The shadow lies
From these bleak winters far away—
Beyond sunrise!

Tell me no more tomorrow will be dear.
I only pray
One touch of passion while it lies so near.
Today, today!

—Lucy Louise Everett, in Life.

Midnight, and in the smoking room of the club sat a young man huddled in a chair. A friend entered. "Hello, Sam," he asked cheerily, "not going home yet?"

"No," muttered the despairing one.

Say! A minister, you'd reckon, never'd say what wasn't true,
But that isn't so with ours, and I jest can prove it, too;

'Cause when Sis plays on the organ so
It makes you want ter die.

Why, he sets and says it's lovely, and
That, seems ter me, 's a lie!

But I like him all the same, and I
Only wish he'd stay.

At our house for good and always and Set with us every day.

Only think of havin' goodies every evenin'! Jintin!

And I'd never git a scoldin', with the minister ter tea!

—Joe Lincoln.

TO AID FLOOD SUFFERERS IN THE SOUTH

Mayor James E. O'Donnell is in receipt of a communication from the Mayor's Southern Flood Relief Committee. The letter was sent out from city hall, New York, and is accompanied by a copy of a circular letter which was sent out by the Merchants' association of New York and which, it is stated, has been markedly successful in securing contributions. The circular letter opens with the following paragraph: "Fifteen thousand square miles of land are submerged by the Mississippi floods. About two hundred thousand people are homeless. Their buildings are wrecked, their crops drowned, their possessions swept away, their farms under water, their means of subsistence destroyed."

The letter to Mayor O'Donnell reads as follows:

City Hall, New York,
June 17, 1912.

Honorable James E. O'Donnell, Mayor,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:—At the request of the committee, I am enclosing herewith a copy of a circular letter which was sent out by the Merchants' association of this city and which has been markedly successful in securing contributions.

We are forwarding this in the thought that if you are considering sending out a general appeal for funds it may be helpful to have the facts already assembled.

Yours very truly,
Robert Atkinson,
Secretary.

"I-I daren't." "Why, what's the matter?" "Matter? It's the end of everything. It means ruin, grief and spoiled life."

The friend looked frightened. "Here, Smith, tell me what's up. Perhaps I can help you."

Smith clenched his fists till the knuckles showed white. "No one can help me," he cried in agony. "I have come to the end of all things. At 8 o'clock I telephoned to my wife, and gave her a perfectly good excuse for not coming straight home, and—his voice sank to a whisper—'I've forgotten what I said!'"

School teachers declare that children have no intelligent comprehension of grammatical rules till they are at least 12 years old. The conversation of Hetty, who is 8, tends to confirm the statement.

Hetty's uncle, who is a school teacher, met her on the street one beautiful May day and asked her if she was going out with the Maying party.

"No, I ain't going," "O, my dear," said her uncle, "you must not say 'I ain't going.' You must say, 'I am not going,' and he proceeded to give her a little lesson in grammar: "You are not going. He is not going. We are not going. You are not going. They are not going. Now, can you say all that, Hetty?"

"Of course I can," she replied, making a courtesy. "There ain't nobody going." And, anyway, what particular difference does it make about your grammar as long as you can make yourself understood?"

WHEN THE MINISTER COMES TO TEA.

Oh, they've swept the parlor carpet, and they've dusted every chair, and they've got the tables hangin' just exactly on the square.

And the whatnot's fixed up lovely, and the mats have all been beat, and the pantry's brimmin' over with the bully things to eat!

Sis has got her Sunday dress on, and she's frizzin' up her bangs; Ma's got on her best black, and she's askin' how it hangs;

Pa has shaved as slick as can be, and I'm rigged way up in G, and it's all because we're going ter have the minister ter tea.

Oh, the table's fixed up gaudy with the gilt edged china set, and we'll use the silver teapot and the company spoons, you bet!

And we're goin' ter have some fruit cake and some thimbleberry jam and "riz biscuits" and some doughnuts and some chicken and some ham!

Ma, she'll 'pologize like fury and say everything is bad, and "sch awful luck with cookin'."

And "sch awful luck with cookin'," she is sure she never had, but, of course, she's only bluffin' for it's as prime as it can be, and she's only talkin' that way 'cause the minister's ter tea.

Everybody'll be a-smilin' and as good as ever wuz, Pa won't growl about the vittles, like he generally does, and he'll ask me would I like another piece or pie, but, she!

That, of course, is only manners, and I'm sposed ter answer "No." Sis'll talk about the church work and about the Sunday school.

Ma'll tell how she liked that sermon that wuz on the golden rule, and if I upset my tumbler they won't say a word ter me.

Yes, a boy can eat in comfort with the minister ter tea!

Say! A minister, you'd reckon, never'd say what wasn't true, but that isn't so with ours, and I jest can prove it, too;

'Cause when Sis plays on the organ so it makes you want ter die.

WILD SCENE IN CONVENTION

Fist Fight Threatened When Lie Was Passed

WARREN G. HARDING

WHO WILL PRESENT NAME OF PRES. TAFT TO REPUBLICAN
CONVENTIONQUESTION OF SEATING DELEGATES
CAUSED LIVELY DISCUSSION
AT CONVENTION

CONVENTION HALL Chicago, June 19.—The Coliseum was a scene of empty chairs at 9:30 o'clock when the band in its perch near the roof struck the opening note of the morning concert. A file of policemen came in through a side door, stepping lively to the march time. The bluecoats took their places across the front of the hall, where the line held back surging crowds yesterday; and delegates and spectators began to filter in through the doors.

Before 9 o'clock the Wabash avenue doors of the convention hall were besieged by telegraph operators, newspapermen and messenger boys who were denied access. The tickets issued for Tuesday's session were rejected by the doorkeepers and for a time it appeared that telegraph wires would lie idle in the basement. Sergeant-at-Arms Stone finally produced 300 forgotten badges from his safe and these were distributed in the crowd outside the Annex door. There was a rush for them, and it required the assistance of the policemen to see that only authorized employees secured the coveted passes.

The air of nervousness that hung over the convention police and employees before the opening of the session yesterday was curiously absent today.

No one knew then what to expect; today the patrolmen, chatted and laughed, secure in the belief they could handle easily any situation that might develop. In the box reserved for special guests there were several early arrivals.

At ten o'clock less than 200 spectators were in the hall and but eight of the delegates' seats were occupied. Although the convention faced the real struggle of the Roosevelt leaders to obtain control of the permanent roll of delegates there was a noticeable lack of excitement about the convention hall.

Mail For Bryan

James Preston, in charge of the press section in the convention hall, came in with a big bundle of mail in his hand.

"The Coliseum postmaster wanted me to help him get out the newspapermen's mail," he said. "It's all for one reporter, W. J. Bryan."

Senator Clapp of Minnesota, one of the Roosevelt delegates at large from that state was early in arriving at his place on the convention floor.

Spectators' seats on the floor and in the galleries were not half filled when Chairman Root appeared at his desk at 10:45.

Soon after Chairman Root had arrived on the platform he was flanked on one side by Gov. Hadley and on the other by James Watson. As a preliminary to the day's expected hostilities all three shook hands and retired to their corners.

Gov. Hadley and Watson, arranged for an equal distribution of the three hours' debate that was to be allowed on the Roosevelt proposition to substitute a roll containing 92 Roosevelt delegates in place of 92 Taft followers seated by the national committee.

Before calling the convention to order Chairman Root and the other officers of the convention posed for batteries of photographers. This helped to delay matters several minutes beyond the scheduled hour, 11 o'clock. At that time many delegates' seats were vacant.

Called to Order
Chairman Root finally pounded the table with his gavel at 11:15 and ordered the sergeant-at-arms to clear the aisles. A swarm of delegates and alternates wandered aimlessly about the hall in search of their seats.

Surrounding Gov. Denen's seat for 15 minutes before the call to order were the Roosevelt leaders in earnest consultation. In the group were Senator Dixon, Gov. Hadley, W. A. Linn and Gov. Johnson of California.

Prayer Offered

Another 15 minutes passed before Chairman Root again took up his gavel and with emphatic blows on the table insisted upon quiet and order.

Much of the confusion was due to latecomers.

Then pounding the table, Root announced:

"The exercises—I mean the business of this day will be opened with prayer by the Rev. Joseph Stolz."

The delegates and alternates and every person in the galleries arose and stood during the invocation.

Senator Root announced the unfinished business of the day—the motion of Watson that the convention proceed to the appointment of the regents of the committee and the sub-motion of Gov. Hadley that the Roosevelt list of 92 delegates be substituted for that of Taft delegates.

Cheers for Hadley

As Gov. Hadley advanced to the front of the stage to open the debate a round of cheers from the Roosevelt forces greeted him.

Committee Chairman Roosevelt which quashed the Hadley motion to purge the temporary roll.

"We could have met immediately and forcibly this arbitrary and unconstitutional ruling," said Hadley, and he was roundly cheered.

"It may be true that there are many persons who do not agree with us that Theodore Roosevelt should be our candidate for president but there can be no difference of opinion that his voice today is the greatest of the western world."

He then read a statement from the 14 members of the national committee protesting against the action of the majority in seating many of the delegates, particularly in the California, Texas and Washington cases.

Republican Party Threatened

Gov. Hadley made an earnest plea that personalities be left out of the debate, declaring the question was so clearly one of principle that it should not be involved by anything else. It was not a question of any man's candidacy, he said; not a question of the next campaign, but embraced the very existence of the republican party itself.

Hadley was again given the closest attention throughout. In closing he declared that when the vote of the sub roll call came he would contend that on the question submitted only those delegates whose seats were not contested would be allowed to ballot.

All Law, All Precedents Agree

"All law, all precedents agree," he said, "that no man should be a judge in his own case."

Argues For Taft Delegates
Hadley was followed by W. T. Distell of Washington, who argued in favor of the Taft delegates seated by the national committee.

Mr. Distell characterized as "recklessly false" the statement credited to Col. Roosevelt that an effort had been made to steal the Washington delegates from the state he declared there was no primary law in Washington.

The Declaration is Utterly False

He declared.

Applause from the Taft men greeted this statement.

The recital of what Mr. Distell said were the "facts" as to Washington aroused the fire of Roosevelt delegates.

He was interrupted with groans from the Roosevelt forces when he declared:

"When it was discovered that the Taft forces were in control the adherents of Mr. Roosevelt declined to continued to the convention because they knew they were beaten."

The clerk, for the information of the convention, then read the list of the delegates which the Hadley motion would strike from the roll and the list of those it would seat.

When the announcement was concluded Henry J. Allen of Kansas was presented to speak in support of the Hadley motion. The chair announced that he had been allotted 20 minutes.

WHO WILL NOMINATE COL. ROOSEVELT FOR THE PRESIDENCY?

With interest so intense as to almost preclude applause the republican national convention at noon today was in the midst of a three hours' argument on the motion of Gov. Hadley to purge the temporary roll of 92 delegates contested by the Roosevelt faction but seated by the national committee.

It seemed likely that the debate on the question would last all afternoon.

HARRY GONZALES
SAYS YOU CAN FISH FOR BASS
AFTER TOMORROW

The local fishermen will be pleased at an announcement made by Fish Warden Gonzales today. Harry wants all fishermen to know that after tomorrow they are allowed to catch all the black bass they can, and they will not be molested. "There are plenty of bass in this section," said Harry, "and catching them furnishes great sport for fishermen. They always put up a battle and that is where the sport comes in."

HORSES PERISHED
IN BOSTON FIRE

The Loss is Placed at $40,000

BOSTON, June 19.—Seventeen horses were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the city stables in Brighton today. Engineer Meserve, one of the city employees, was badly injured in trying to escape. The loss is placed at $40,000 and the cause of the blaze is not known.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES REPORTED
One case of diphtheria and one case of infantile paralysis have been reported at the office of the board of health at city hall this week. With the exception of several cases of measles these are the only contagious disease cases reported at the office of the board of health for several weeks.

NEW SEWER WANTED
IN LLEWELYN STREET

It is Estimated the Cost
Will be $6400

An order for a sewer that will cost somewhere in the vicinity of $6400 will go to the municipal council in a few days. The sewer has been petitioned for by E. J. Gilmore and will be laid in Llewellyn street. In order to reach the river it will be necessary to run the sewer through the land of the Locks and Canals Co., and it will be necessary to get the permission of that company before going ahead with the work. The sewer will be about 2150 feet in length. The sewer department is working on the Music Hall avenue sewer and while this is not a very big job it looks as if it would prove quite an expensive one. In order to connect with the Dutch street sewer it will be necessary to go down about sixteen feet through solid ledge and the estimated cost of the sewer is $2030.

SEVERAL EVENTS

The next meet will be on June 20th, when the first qualification for the "President's Cup" will be held. This has always proved to be an important occasion and the golfers turn out in large numbers to participate in this event.

Other events will take place on July 4, 15, 27, Aug. 3, 15, 31, Sept. 2, 7, 21, 28, Oct. 5, 12 and 19.

NOTRE DAME COMMENCEMENT GRADUATES RECEIVED DIPLOMAS

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

Address Delivered by Rev. Fr.
Brogan—Monsignor O'Brien
Presented Diplomas

"Death Before Dishonor" is the class motto of the class of 1912 at Notre Dame Academy, where eight young women were this morning presented their diplomas. The commencement exercises took place in the chapel of the institution, where a solemn high mass was celebrated. The weather was ideal for such an occasion, and many took advantage to attend and congratulate the young women on their successful career. The graduates presented a very fine appearance, being neatly attired in white and wore veils. They came from all parts of the state, as well as from New York and New Jersey, which shows that the academy is widely known as a reliable educational institution.

Among the guests present were a large number of relatives of the graduates from out of town, and seated in the sanctuary during the mass were Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R.; Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, and Rev. Farragh A. Brogan of St. Anthony's church, Cohasset, Mass.

The diplomas were presented by Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R., while the address was delivered by Rev. Fr. Brogan.

Previous to the mass, which was celebrated at 10 o'clock, a brief reception was held at which time the graduates were showered with congratulations and best wishes. At 10 o'clock

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Lovers of good music are turning out in large numbers at the Merrimack Square theatre this week to greet the Temple Players in their farewell appearance of the season. Their offering is a bright novelty called "A Night at the Cabaret," in which pleasing musical numbers and other happy features are combined in a most enjoyable series of amusements. Miss Grace Hawthorne's number, "The Nightingale and the Star," is the best of the many good things heard. The other members of the cast are especially good. The piece is adequately staged. On Sunday afternoon and evening these players will appear in their biggest hit. It will be their "good-bye" performance for the summer.

To replace The Temple Players, Manager Carroll is indeed fortunate in being able to secure the Harvard Stock company, a high class aggregation of players who are to appear in the best and most popular plays of the present day. Among those who are to appear will be Henry Grady, Charles Stevens, who is well known here, Richard Simmons, George Robinson, William Malone, Valerio Valente, Adelaide Nye, Marion Francis, and others who have enjoyed numerous successes in stock. The presentation for the first three days of next week will be "The Blue and the Gray," a story of the Blue and the Gray. For the last three days of the week "Ismael," or "In the Depths," will be given.

The management wishes to announce that the same policy, regarding prices and a continuous performance from 1.30 to 10.30 o'clock, daily, will be continued. The same high class series of photo-plays and illustrated songs will be given with the presentation by the stock company.

The other numbers on this week's bill are exceptionally good. LeReux, Impersonator and character change artist, is a leader in his class, and Claude Austin, comedy juggler, is most amusing. The photo-plays are in keeping with the other high class features of the bill. Remember this theatre is the "coolest spot in town."

all repaired to the cosy little chapel of the academy, where solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Timothy P. Callahan, who was assisted by Rev. John J. McLaughlin as deacon and Rev. Joseph P. Curtin as subdeacon.

The academy choir, ably assisted by the orchestra, rendered an appropriate program of music during the service, which consisted of the following numbers:

Processional Orchestra
Introit—"Dilexisti" Gregorian
Scola and Choir
"Kyrie"—Alma Pater Gregorian
"Gloria"—Missa de Angelis Gregorian

Gradual—"Specie Tua" Chanters

Offertorium—
(a) "Fili Regum" Gregorian
(b) "Totia Polstra Es" Melvil
Cum Jubilo—
"Sanctus" Gregorian
"Benedictus" Gregorian
"Agnus Dei" Gregorian

Communion—"Quinque" Gregorian
Immediately after the reading of the gospel, Rt. Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien, P. R., presented diplomas to the following young women: Miss Anna Madeline Brodline, Revere; Miss Mary Christine Brogan, Lowell; Miss Catherine Gertrude Buckley, South Lawrence; Miss Christina Rose Gately, Lowell; Miss Regina Coeli Lyons, Dorchester; Miss Rhea Helen Mather, Worcester; Miss Blanche Veronika, Rossmore; Miss Mary Elizabeth Schantz, Rochester, N. Y.

Rev. Fr. Brogan's Address

Following the presentation of the diplomas which were bound with a white ribbon, the class color, Rev. Farragh A. Brogan of Cohasset, Mass., spoke to the graduates. He said:

In coming to say a few words of advice to you today, hoping they may find a welcome reception in your minds and hearts, I cannot but reflect on the well high innumerable last words spoken to June graduates since schools began graduation exercises on this continent.

I cannot avoid the conviction that these "last words" of advice given by masters of intellectual culture, and social experience, were welcome by the then graduates as guiding stars along the path of their successful efforts of the future; and yet, were they carefully watched and held fast to. In life's efforts afterwards, even in part, they would have changed long ago, the intellectual, moral, social and religious standards of the country, for the better.

As human beings, we have, as a common inheritance, the tendency to seek that which gives happiness, and avoid that which gives pain, and, no doubt, many, if not all of you graduates here today, in the year 1912, like those in the other years of the past, enriched by the sound, moral and religious training in this highly efficient school, are looking forward with joyful hopes of securing that happiness to yourselves as you journey through life.

The avenues to happiness are peculiar to each individual, depending on personal tastes, either natural or acquired. To some the acquisition of wealth means happiness, to others, social or intellectual connections—the various professions, and etc.

To point out the guiding principles, or the besetting dangers, in the working-out of a happy and successful life, in each case, would carry us too far afield; but there is one fundamental principle—the corner-stone of any structure we build for a happy and useful life, which, if kept well before our mind, must give us that success to which all of us alike tend.

St. John, whom we all venerate, gives us that principle—the cornerstone in the structure of life's happiness, when, ripened with the experience of high one hundred years of service to his fellowmen, went from village to village, city to city, addressing a last word to all, "My children, love one another."

In these few parting words, he sums

NURSING MOTHERS

Are sometimes deficient in the quantity, sometimes in the quality, of their milk and are, therefore, unable to supply the proper nourishment for the baby.

In all such cases

can be used to make up the deficiency, as its analysis is almost identical with the best grade of mother's milk, and when used by the mother herself, her milk will be enriched and the supply increased, owing to the stimulation of the lactation glands by the (non-nutritive) malt, which is a part of the food.

LAWN PARTY HELD BY ST. MARGARET'S PARISH

At the New Kasino Attended by Over 3000
People

REV. CHARLES J. GALLIGAN
Pastor

The lawn party at the new Kasino dance hall yesterday afternoon and last evening, under the auspices of St. Margaret's parish proved to be one of the most successful social affairs ever conducted in this city. In the afternoon the children held forth and had a very enjoyable time. There was a very large attendance.

In the evening, though, the attendance was the largest that ever visited the place, over 3000 people being present. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, while the lawn, which was well illuminated and beautified by many tables, added much to the picturesqueness of the resort. The affair served as a reunion, and all participants assisted in making the party a banner one.

Rev. Charles J. Galligan, the popular pastor of the church, was greatly pleased with the success of the event, and he was busy during the evening receiving the congratulations of his many friends. Rev. Henry Beardon, curate at the church, was also present, and he too was gratified with the large attendance and the success of the party.

Rev. Daniel Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church, and Rev. Fr. Lee of Leominster were among those present, and both clergymen greatly enjoyed the festivities.

The different tables, the ever popular "Wheel of Fortune," and a new one, "Hit the Bottle," with several others which were located on the lawn were presided over by competent "barkers" and very good returns were reported.

The opening number, which started shortly after 8 o'clock, was a rose pageant, given under the direction of Miss L. B. Perrin, and the feature proved a most beautiful spectacle. Those who participated included the pupils of Miss Perrin, and the manner in which they executed the many beautiful evolutions reflected great credit on themselves and their teacher. The participants were very small and were prettily dressed for the occasion.

The children marched on to the floor and great applause and for about one hour went through a series of difficult movements, the rose queen being carried in a chariot, drawn by three little boys. At the conclusion of the march the queen was escorted to a throne at the rear of the hall and the children who carried ropes of pink roses again went through their dances.

Those who took part in the royal festival included the following: Rose queen, Miss Helen Donahue; pages, Master Lewis Donnelly and John Murphy; attendants, Masters Charles Coughlin and William Darley; cupid, Master John Bagley; rose maids, Patricia McEvoy, Doris Woodward, Mary McEvoy, Adelaide Cheney, Nellie McEvoy, Elizabeth Riley, Nora Hasty, Irene Conway, Star Ryan and Helen Bradley.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL PLANS TO TAX THE CORPORATIONS

Hearing Held Last Night and Counsel for the Companies Opposed the Measure

A hearing on the proposition for the city to levy a tax upon public service corporations using poles and wire attachments of $5 a year rental for all future poles and $1 a year for each wire attachment was given by the municipal council last night, and for corporations, the N. E. T. & T. Co., the Lowell Electric Light corporation, the Bay State Street Railway company, and the Postal Telegraph company were represented by counsel, all of whom were opposed to the proposed ordinance.

It was claimed that the city did not have the right to levy an annual assessment as contemplated by the ordinance, though it set forth in the ordinance that all the city desired was that the expense of the wire department be defrayed by the corporations, because the department would not be necessary but for the corporations.

Commissioner Cummings outlined the purpose of the ordinance in the beginning, and said that the ordinance was not proposed for the purpose of obtaining a revenue for the city. "All we ask," said Mr. Cummings, "is a revenue sufficient to meet the expenses of the wire department. I want to say that since the ordinance was introduced the city clerk has communicated with several other cities in the state for the purpose of ascertaining if such an ordinance exists in any of the other cities, and as far as we could learn no ordinance of the kind has been drafted in any other city." Commissioner Cummings said that the cost of maintaining the wire department, or the amount allowed this year for that department was $2526.

Mr. E. K. Hall, representing the N. E. T. & T. Co. began his argument by showing what his company does, directly and indirectly, for the city. He said that the company pays directly a tax of $7343 and that the state rebates to the city of Lowell the sum of $4605.27 because of residents in this city holding the company's stock. "The company allows the city 53 free telephones, representing $2619," said Mr. Hall, "and the company reserves one duct in its conduits for the city, free of charge, and in the whole city we have set aside 130,560 feet of ducts for the use of the city, and that represents 23 per cent of everything we have put in here. In other words, the company has invested $35,249 in Lowell for the sole use of the city and for which the company gets no return. One-fifth of our pole space is set aside for the city as we reserve space on all of our poles for the use of fire alarm and police signal wires.

Mr. Hall said the gross revenue in 1911 was a little over $200,000. "And we give up more than 9 per cent of all the money we collect for the purpose of doing business here. I think that is about as much as any citizen ought to do."

"I assume that you wish us to do business here because we are useful to you. Is there any other corporation doing business here, aside from a public service corporation, which gives you so much?" He said that the company had 2451 poles in the city upon which are only its own wires, and 2702 other poles on which it has attachment space. "Supposing the company is asked to pay $5 for each pole that is erected?" asked Mr. Hall. "Who is going to pay for that pole? Is the subscriber? And why not? The company is now probably losing money on its resident service. It is not making anything, anyway. To ask this company to pay that money means a curtailment of service. It can mean nothing else. If there is a right on the part of the city to put up a tax on the poles to be set up in the future, then there is no reason why the tax should not be placed on poles already erected.

"We are ready to do business in Lowell if we can supply it at the rate which has been asked, but this company would not care to continue service at the rate if it has to pay the extra expense of erecting poles."

"Under your charter can you refuse telephone service?" asked Mr. Barrett. "Not when we can get the proper facilities."

"Why should we be obliged to maintain a wire department and who should bear the expense?" asked Mr. Cummings.

"For the same reason that you keep a street department: for the people who have teams. The streets are for the general public. You wouldn't ask the people doing business on the streets to support the street department. You get better construction by having somebody to look after the work."

"The city puts a tax on automobiles," said Mr. Barrett. "Why not the city on pole locations?"

"Because it is not within the province of the city to do that. It is a debatable question, that of the right of a city to collect from a public service corporation."

Mr. Hall did not correctly understand the ordinance. He thought it meant a tax on all poles, present and future.

Ald. Cummings explained that only future poles were to be taxed, and Mr. Hall said he did not believe that any ordinance levying a charge on newly erected poles would be valid.

"The development of the telephone, telegraph, electric light and street railway had been greatly to the benefit of this city. As the business has developed it has been necessary to regulate the business. Again and again the legislature has passed acts regulating the traffic, and it has not been deemed wise that a municipality should not pass rules of its own, apart from the laws enacted by the state."

"It is strange," said Mr. Qua, "that no other city has taken a step of this kind." He suggested that appeal be made to the legislature to have a law passed empowering not Lowell alone, but all the cities of the commonwealth, the right to have their wire departments maintained by the public service corporations.

Benjamin N. Johnson, also of the Lowell Electric Light corporation, said he didn't believe the ordinance as drafted would be held valid by a court. The members of the municipal council talk one way, he said, but reading of the ordinance does not point to the intent as indicated by council members.

He characterized the proposition of the commissioners as perfectly fair, but said it is an open question that such a proposition will be held legal.

"Here you are," he said, "advocating an equitable division of the charges. One company, the Postal, has in all the poles it needs, therefore that company only wants to be assured that poles erected in the past will not be touched."

Mr. Johnson criticized the use of the word "minimum" as it appears in the second paragraph of the ordinance, on the ground that it makes the second paragraph to conflict with the first.

"If it wasn't for the fact that one of the departments has an automobile we should be forced to hire one to make inspections of wires," said Mr. Cummings.

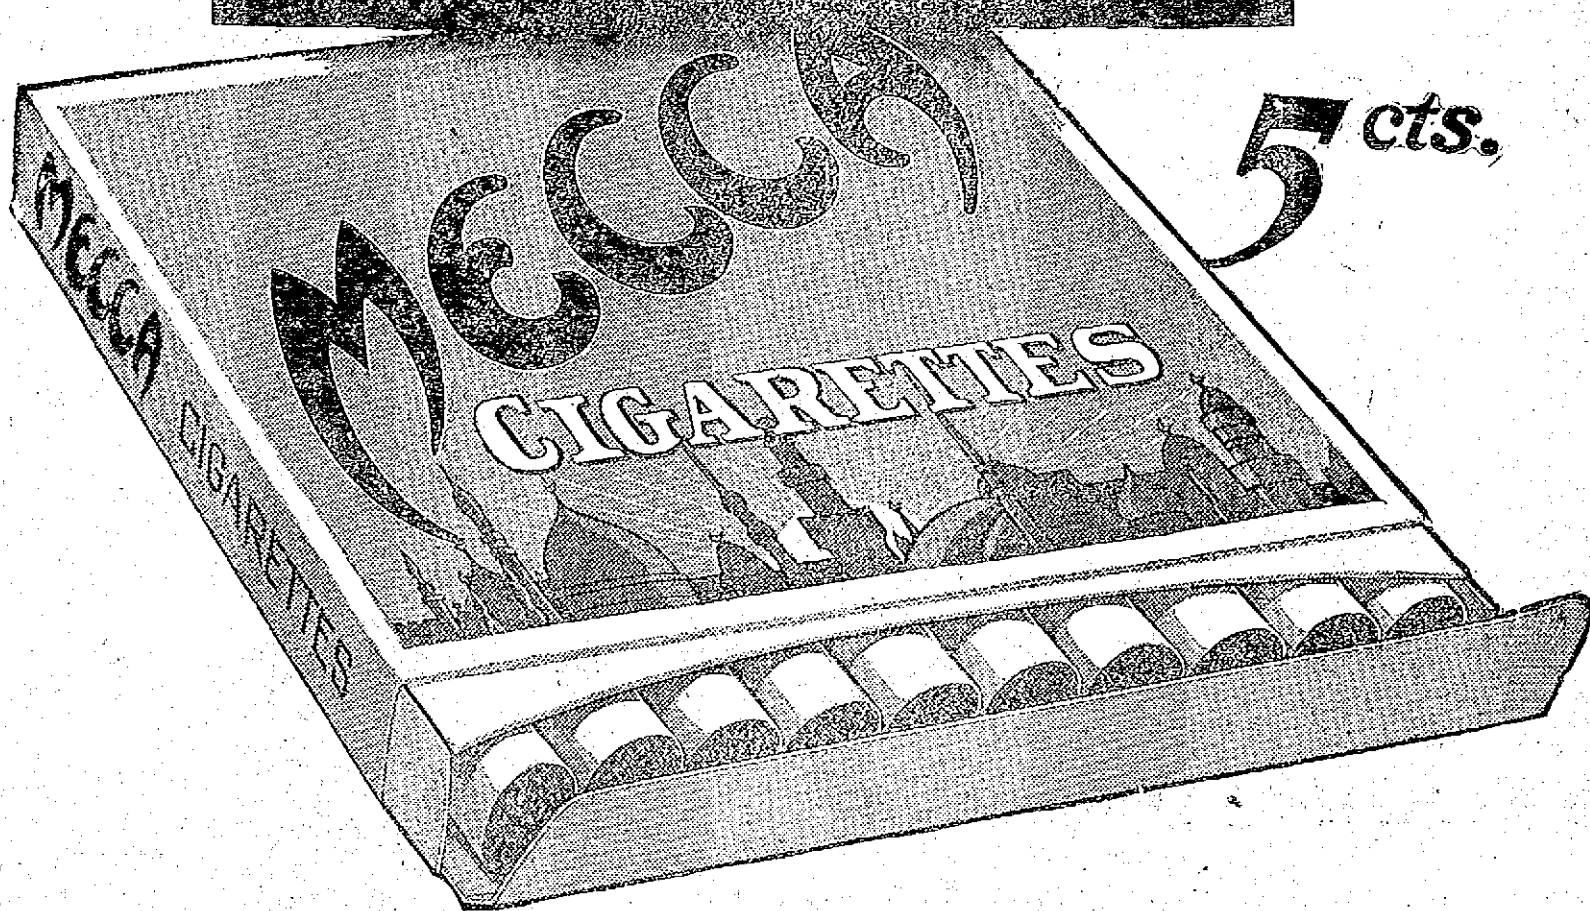

Clement K. Lamson, representing the Bay State Street Railway company, said at the outset that, as a point of charge an assessment for pole locations or for wire attachments, a point which he would not argue at the time.

Mr. Cummings requested Solicitor Hennessy to make a statement. "As a matter of law we cannot charge you for anything we have granted you," said Mr. Hennessy. "But this ordinance is based upon the Chleopce case, a ruling on which was handed down by Chief Justice Knowlton, and although it is but an obiter dictum, it carries stupendous weight."

"We included the minimum charge in the ordinance because the pole locations of the future are to be fewer, while the actual work to be done by the wire department will increase. If

DOCTOR RECOMMENDS 'CUTICURA' FOR BAD CASE OF PIMPLES

Sufferer's Face in Such a Condition He Was Ashamed to Go Out, Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

3590 Third Ave., New York.—"About three months ago my face and neck became covered with small red pimples which later developed into large boils and my face was in such a condition that I was ashamed to go out of the house. After using salves recommended by the druggist I went to a hospital for treatment. The kind physician at the hospital told me I would have to report for three or four months for treatment before the boils would even start to disappear. A young physician while treating me recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment and told me to treat my face every night before retiring with both the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. By following his advice I did not have to go to the hospital for more than a week and a half. The pimples obtained were far better even than the physician expected and I was completely cured in a short time by the use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I also found that both nurses and physicians at the hospital used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Fred W. Sawyer, Sept. 7, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment afford the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning, bleeding, pimply, and crusty skin and scalp humors, of young and old. A single hot bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle scrubbing with Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing cases and permit rest and sleep when all else fails. Indispensable for those who suffer from poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Liberal samples of each mailed free, with 25¢ book on the skin and hair. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

he is opposed to the ordinance for two reasons. Firstly, he does not believe the city has any legal right to make such an ordinance, and secondly, if it has that right, it is not good policy to frame such an ordinance.

The supreme court has held in a St. Louis case that a rental fee could be charged for pole locations. The reason was that the charter of St. Louis was established by the freedmen, the constitutional convention giving them the right to write a charter as they saw fit. And the supreme court said this situation is unique among American cities. That is a very different situation from what exists in Lowell, he said.

The development of the telephone, telegraph, electric light and street railway had been greatly to the benefit of this city. As the business has developed it has been necessary to regulate the business. Again and again the legislature has passed acts regulating the traffic, and it has not been deemed wise that a municipality should not pass rules of its own, apart from the laws enacted by the state.

THIRTEEN MINERS ENTOMBED ARE THOUGHT TO BE DEAD

Explosion Thought to Have Been Caused by "Windy Shot"— Mine is Near Trinidad

TRINIDAD, Col., June 19.—Thirteen miners are entombed and are believed to be dead as a result of an explosion in the new slope of the Hastings mine of the Victor American Fuel Co. shortly after midnight. Another miner, badly injured, has been rescued. The mine is 16 miles north of Trinidad. The main slope is badly caved and rescuers have been able to make but little progress. Rescue equipment is being rushed to the scene.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

The Funeral of Late Mrs. Josephine Quigley

All roads at North Chelmsford this morning led to the little Catholic church in Middlesex street, where at 9 o'clock solemn requiem services were held for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. Josephine McCabe Quigley, whose untimely and unexpected death on Monday threw the entire village into deepest sorrow. Prior to the hour of the funeral the pretty home of the deceased in Princeton street was crowded with mourning friends, while a wealth of floral tributes which enveloped the casket bore mute but fragrant testimony to the love and esteem in which she was held by all. The deceased was one of North Chelmsford's best known and best liked young women, and no church or social gathering was complete without her lovable presence. Possessed of unusual intelligence which had been carefully cultivated, she was ever in demand at the village entertainments and was ever at the command of her friends in this respect. For nineteen years she had been organist and director of the choir at St. John's church and took a deep and active interest in all parish affairs. She was kindly, the soul of amiability, deeply religious and charitable, an exemplary type of Christian womanhood. Her death is particularly distressing by reason of the fact that only one year ago her friends assembled at the same edifice to offer their prayers for her future happiness upon the occasion of her marriage, and the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends goes forth to her bereaved husband. In the gathering that crowded the church to the doors were friends from Lowell, Boston, Fitchburg, Ayer, Grantville and Wilton, N. H. The unders at the house and church were Messrs. John E. Hogan and John A. Curry, while the casket was borne by Messrs. James P. Dunnigan, James B. McQuaid, Mark H. McGrath and Patrick S. Ward.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Mr. Allen discussed the Washington cases in some detail, denouncing Disraeli's statement as flimsy. Allen frequently was cheered by the Roosevelt delegates and laughed at by the Taft men.

Despite the occasional discourtesies to speakers, it was apparent the temper of the delegates was much better than yesterday. The session seemed to have relaxed everywhere.

After being interrupted several times Allen shouted at some of the Taft tormentors:

"You haven't got anything until this convention is over. Then the Lord only knows what you've got."

"Are you going to abide by the decision of this convention?" shouted a delegate from Colorado.

"I'll answer you later."

"Answer me now."

The door was in an uproar.

"I'll answer you," he shouted, "I'll answer you," he shouted, "I'll answer you," he shouted.

Allen dealt in the figures of the primary held in Seattle. He said Col. Roosevelt had got all but about 300 of the 6000 votes cast.

A delegate asked how many voters there were in Seattle. Allen admitted there were probably more than 100,000.

Allen denounced the methods of the Washington state leaders at the state convention saying that the conditions were such that all Roosevelt men were barred from the hall. He denounced the national committee as unfair and prejudiced and then took a final swipe at the credentials committee, which as yet remained to be named.

"They are not," he said, "why are you not waiting for the committee on credentials to pass upon our case. I'll reply by asking you, why don't you wait until your horse is stolen before you look the door?"

Allen was followed by former Senator Henryway of Indiana for the Taft forces.

Senator Henryway declared that the work of the national committee had been done fairly and regularly.

"You are asked by a mere minority of the committee to overthrow the work of the majority," said Henryway. "Thirteen members of the committee have signed this protest; 39 have seated these delegates. Now they ask you to uphold that minority without seeing the evidence, without getting at the facts."

Henryway attacked the 13 men who signed the protest.

members of the national committee sided the protest although Governor Hurd said that 14 had signed it.

Taking up the Texas cases Henryway said that Cecil Lyon had controlled five thousand federal appointments in Texas, that his word had been law but this year the republicans of the other foot had sent a delegation of Cecil Lyon's office holders but of independent voters.

From the Pennsylvania delegation came a yell:

"How about Penrose?"

Bending over and shaking his fists in the faces of the delegation, Henryway shouted:

"Give me Penrose before Flinn every time."

Tumult Prevailed

The Pennsylvanians went wild.

Climbing on their chairs and brandishing their fists they yelled epithets and vituperation at the speaker.

Flinn himself took a prominent part in the demonstration.

"Throughout the hall came yells and jeers and for a few moments tumult prevailed."

As the disorder continued in the Pennsylvania delegation Senator Root came to the front of the stage and pointing to Flinn shouted:

"If the gentleman from Pennsylvania wishes to commend his cause to the just and honest members of this convention and the American people he will cease to interfere with the delivery of a reasonable and decent argument."

Senator Root was cheered.

"We will have order in this convention or the members responsible for the disorder will suffer in the estimation of the American people," added Senator Root.

Then in the midst of a new tumult Flinn climbed up on a chair and demanded recognition.

"A point of order," he shouted.

"State it," commanded Root.

"It is that the mention of personalities of Penrose and Flinn are not in order."

"The gentleman's point is not well taken. The gentleman will be seated at once," ruled Root.

A point of order, he shouted, "I am not standing for a minute but then I stand."

A STUBBORN FIGHT IS EXPECTED TODAY

Each Side to Have Time to Debate Question of Dropping 92 Taft Delegates

CHICAGO, June 19.—The second day of the 15th republican national convention opened with ten hours of stubborn fighting in prospect and the outcome of the contest for the presidential nomination no more visible than it was yesterday. Four major possibilities loomed large in the foreground. These were the renomination of President Taft, the nomination of Col. Roosevelt, nomination of a third candidate, and possibly of a second or double convention.

Scores of men could be found in the convention crowds who would back any one of these possibilities with hard cash. Taft, Roosevelt and third candidate partisans each claimed the strategic advantage as a result of yesterday's selection of Senator Root as temporary chairman of the convention. The vote by which Mr. Root was chosen temporary chairman over Governor McGovern of Wisconsin was construed in so many ways that the average mind became confused and finally rejected all the forecasts.

But one thing seemed certain as the time for the reassembling of the delegates at 11 o'clock approached, and that was that Governor Hadley of Missouri would take up the fight for the Roosevelt forces by renewing his motion to strike from the temporary roll of the convention as prepared by the national committee the names of 92 Taft delegates elected by the national committee in contested election cases and substitute those of the Roosevelt cases. Then it seemed equally certain the Taft leaders would move to refer Governor Hadley's "expurgated" list to the credentials committee and that on this motion there would be a roll call of all delegates, individually.

Governor Hadley, as floor leader of the Roosevelt contingent, arranged with former Rep. Watson of Indiana, the Taft floor leader, for an hour and a half of debate by each side on the question. This, with the time necessary for the long roll call would take this one phase of the bitter fight into the late afternoon.

To Name Committees
Whatever the outcome it was planned to appoint committees before adjourning this session and then take a brief recess until 8 or 9 o'clock to-night.

The night session, it was expected, would be short. At this adjourned session it was planned simply to receive the reports of the committee on rules and possibly that from one other committee.

As now laid out by the leaders, the convention will be organized to proceed to business on Thursday morning. It is expected by them that the credentials committee and platform committee will report Thursday night. At this time the Roosevelt followers are present their demands for a purging of the roll of the convention and have another individual roll call on the question.

Double Convention
Then if the Roosevelt partisans are beaten may come the much talked of double convention. In this connection it was frequently rumored that Colonel Roosevelt had urged his managers to take steps today to force the issue regarding the demanded revocation of the action of the national committee in the contest cases. Also it was said that the Roosevelt forces would refuse to recognize Senator Root as the legally elected temporary chairman of the convention.

PUBLIC HEARING IS ASKED IN SHOE MACHINERY PROBE

It is Claimed to be the Constitutional Right of the People Interested

BOSTON, June 19.—The government is seeking a public hearing of the testimony to be taken in the suit against the United Shoe Machinery company as a constitutional right of the people of this country.

United States Dist. Atty. French made this clear yesterday at the hearing which Judges Colt, Putnam and Brown gave the parties in the suit on the question of publicity while the testimony was being taken before the special examiner.

Charles F. Choate, counsel for the United Shoe Machinery, opposed the government, declaring that a public hearing would result in public prejudice against the five officers of the company who are now awaiting trial on a criminal charge in connection with the same case. Further, he contended that it would be in violation of the ordinary rules of the court in equity proceedings.

United States Dist. Atty. French stated that the government desired a public hearing of the testimony of the broad ground that the action was a legal proceeding and of great public interest. Secrecy, he said, was obnoxious to the principle of American jurisprudence. In all other cases under the Sherman act, he stated, hearings before the examiner have been public as the result of mutual acquiescence on the part of all parties concerned. He was unable to find any ruling of the court hearing directly on the question as to whether the hearings should be public or private. It was significant, he added, that it remained for these defendants to object to the publication of the testimony in this case as it was being taken before the examiner. "They are the first defendants," he continued, "under the Sherman act to raise this objection. Ordinarily, in a private case the parties do not care whether the proceedings are public or not."

At this point Judge Brown interrupted to inquire if the essential question before the court was not the protection of the rights of the defendants. "That is one question," replied Mr. French, "the other is the protection of the rights of the people."

Charles F. Choate, as counsel for the defendant, stated that the reasons why the defendants desired the usual practice in such cases was that much matter might creep into the testimony, intentionally or otherwise, which the examiner would have no authority to exclude, and which if published would be spread broadcast to the injury of the defendants.

"There is pending in this same court," said he, "an indictment against five of the officers of this company. To publish all through the land evidence against these defendants before their case is brought to trial and months before they would have an opportunity to reply would be unfair."

United States District Attorney French filed a motion to have the testimony in the case taken outside of Massachusetts as the first motion provided for the taking of testimony within the state. Each of the parties has a week to file briefs in the matter.

Judge Putnam stated that he would not vote on the question, as he felt that a public hearing would make it difficult for the court to give the defendants an impartial trial in criminal proceedings.

Colonel Roosevelt threatened to bolt the convention and tell his supporters that the delegates should be unseated and a double convention likely.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Col. Roosevelt was himself the chief speaker at the caucus of his followers late last night. "I regret to say," Mr. Roosevelt said in his address, "that Mr. Root is the beneficiary and representative only of the majority of the defunct national committee which seated in that convention 80 or 90 delegates who have no claim whatever in law or in morals to seats therein."

Col. Roosevelt added that the 64 cases which he had personally examined "about which any honest man could have no doubt," represented men "taken from my strength and added to the strength of Mr. Taft making a shift of 128 votes. The two great flagrant cases where entire states were stolen—Washington and Texas—would alone have reversed the vote of the convention. On an honest vote Mr. Root would have been in a minority of 72. His election represents the taking advantage of successful fraud and nothing else."

Mr. Roosevelt then took occasion to reiterate what has been understood as plain intimation of intention to disregard the action of the convention if the contested delegates were not unseated. "Serve notice," exclaimed Mr. Roosevelt with emphasis, "that we will not treat any action taken by the convention as binding upon any member of the convention or any member of the republican party if the nominal majority taking the action contains as an essential part the fraudulent delegates to whose votes Mr. Root is indebted for his selection. In particular I wish to say that I speak for the great majority of the Roosevelt delegates who I say that I will decline to recognize as any important force whatever any report of the credentials committee dependent upon the votes of any of the fraudulent delegates who may be

Chief Doorkeeper Hanson removed several of his aides after taking their badges from them and caused two former aides to be ejected from the annex.

In each case Hanson said the men had been found accepting "entrance fees." The tickets accepted at the door but which were said to be counterfeit were the same as the regular tickets only they did not indicate the entrance, section, row and seat number. The tickets are said to have been distributed in national committee envelopes bearing the words "Admission only." Many joker tickets were also passed. These entitled the holder to pass by the Coliseum any day during the week.

ONE MAN KILLED
ANOTHER INJURED
Motorcycles in Collision Near Worcester

WORCESTER, June 19.—One of the most peculiar and serious accidents of its kind which has come to the notice of the police for some time, occurred on the West Boylston turnpike last night, when Manfred Lohnes, aged 21, of 2 Boyd street, a chauffeur, on his way home from Oakdale, was instantaneously killed, and Martin Widenberg, aged 28, of Widenberg avenue, Northland, received injuries from which he is expected to die, in a head-on collision of motorcycles.

Young Lohnes is said to be a chauffeur for Lewis Cutting, a Worcester lawyer who is making his home for the summer in Oakdale. Lohnes had completed his work for the day and was on his way home on his motorcycle. Shortly before he passed Pierce's Corner, where the accident occurred, Lohnes passed and narrowly escaped hitting Aaron Ohman, aged 25, of 12 Stovall avenue, it is said.

The machines ridden by Lohnes and Widenberg met at a slight turn in the road. The crash demolished both machines. Nothing but a heap of twisted mass of machinery remained.

Young Lohnes was instantly killed and dropped from the seat into the road. Widenberg did not fare so badly and escaped with a fractured skull and injuries about the shoulders. He was picked up and rushed toward Worcester in a car driven by C. D. Spear of Hingham. The auto met the police who were on duty on the turnpike. Widenberg was taken to the City hospital, after being attended by Dr. H. W. Trask of West Boylston and Police Surgeon Shannahan. He is on the dangerous list.

Ohman proceeded on his way after giving his version of the accident to Selectmen Pierce and Brigham of West Boylston and the Worcester police.

HAWAIIAN VOTE
A SURPRISE TO THE TAFT PEOPLE

CHICAGO, June 19.—Hawaii's solid support of McGovern was one of the surprises in the vote for the permanent chairmanship of the republican national convention held here yesterday.

Four of the six votes had been counted by the Taft people and they were at a loss to account for the defection. Last night it was said that the Hawaiians had voted against Root in order to nullify the charges that the Taft forces are depending for support on delegations from districts which represent no electoral votes.

It is claimed by the president's managers that the Hawaiians will be back in the field when the test vote comes.

SAMUEL GOMPERS
WANTS LABOR PLANKS IN REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

CHICAGO, June 19.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived here last night and immediately began formulation of plans which they will submit to the proper committee for insertion in the republican platform.

Although Mr. Gompers said he would not discuss the proposed plank until they had been submitted it was said relief would be asked from certain provisions of the anti-trust law and the curbing of the power of federal judges in the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes. It was said also that prohibition would be asked on the shipment of prison-made goods from one state to another.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. T. Billings of the First Unitarian church. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chene, with pearl trimmings and puffs, and carried a slower bouquet of white bride roses. She also wore her wedding present from the bridegroom, a handsome pearl pendant. She was attended by Miss Florence Ellen Bean as maid of honor.

Miss Bean wore a gown of white bordered chiffon over pink messaline, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. She, too, wore a pearl pendant, her present from the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Alvah Hunt Weaver, the brother of the bride, as best man. The ushers were Mr. Stewart Mackay of North Chelmsford and Mr. Andrew Fisher, Jr., of Manchester, N. H. The present of the bridegroom to the best man was a topaz stickpin and to the ushers were pearl stickpins.

The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns, carnations, roses and other cut flowers. The wedding ceremony, the double ring ceremony, was performed in a tower of palms and ferns and pink carnations. The decorations of the entrance hall, the parlor and the living-room were green and pink, the chandeliers, mantel and bookcases being decorated with crowshol asparagus greens and pink carnations, and the dining-room was similarly decorated, except that the flower was the pink Killarney rose, a great mound of them being arranged in the center of the dining table, and clusters of them placed about the room in tall vases. The stair hall was decorated with wreaths and pink carnations.

During the evening, wedding music was played by Miss Harriet Mansur. Mr. and Mrs. Fiske received many beautiful presents, the room which had been given over to the presents being filled with the silverware, linen, cut glass and china ware, which had been

Milady's Toilet Table
By Mme. O'MILLE

"For dark and discolored skin, enlarged pores, blotches and other facial blemishes a simple lotion made at home is highly recommended. Dissolve an original package of maytane in a half pint which hasel and rub a little on the face, neck and arms each morning. This is better than powder, for it tends to correct faulty complexion and makes the skin soft, smooth and youthful looking."

"Plain pyroxin applied to thin and straggly eyebrows with finger tips causes them to grow in thick and beautiful. Eyelashes will come in long and curly if pyroxin is applied to the roots with forefinger and thumb."

"A dry shampoo refreshes the scalp, removes dust, excess oil and dandruff, and leaves the hair beautifully fluffy, light and lustrous. To make the shampoo powder, mix four ounces of powdered orris root with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a teaspoonful on the head, brush it out thoroughly—and you will be delighted with the result."

"An effective and satisfactory method of removing superfluous hair is to apply delatone paste to the hairy surface, allow to remain two or three minutes, then wipe off, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. To make the paste, simply mix powdered delatone with water."

SURVEYORS AT WORK ON STREET SURVEYS

In Connection With the Abolition of the Grade Crossing in Middlesex Street

The survey work in connection with the abolition of the grade crossings in Middlesex and Fletcher streets and Western avenue is going on at the present time. The railroad engineers are working in Middlesex, Fletcher, Chelmsford and other streets in the vicinity of the Middlesex street station and they are working in connection with City Engineer Kearney's office to avoid displacement of street lines and street surveys.

The expense of abolishing the Middlesex street crossing has been estimated at more than half a million dollars but all estimates at the present time are mere guess work. The fact that the engineers are making a survey does not necessarily mean that the work of abolishing the grade crossings will start right away. It will be necessary to have several hearings before the railroad commissioners and after all plans have been submitted by the engineers for the railroad, and the city engineer, the commission will issue a decree as to what plans shall be followed. The law abolishing the grade crossings was passed in 1903 and the first decree issued by the commissioners included the abolition of the School, Walker and Plain street crossings. The next will include the Middlesex street, Fletcher street and Western avenue. The railroad has not yet arrived at any definite conclusion as to what changes will be made in the appointments or position of its station in Middlesex street. It may be allowed to remain as it is, it may be elevated or it may be given a new location. The company will have lots of time to think about it, as it is, it may be elevated or it may be given a new location. The company will have lots of time to think about it, as it is, it may be elevated or it may be given a new location.

A MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN DALY'S COURT

State Police Will be Asked to Investigate

What threatened to be one of the worst fires that ever occurred in this city broke out about 11:15 o'clock this morning in a stable and carriage shed in Daly's court belonging to Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department. The fire had gained much headway before being discovered, but when the alarm from box 35 was sounded the firemen were soon on the scene and after laying several lines of hose the blaze was extinguished.

The building is a one-story structure with a frontage of about 10 feet and is used for the storing of carriages and horses.

The fire started in the apartment used by Avedis M. Terigian, baker, grocer and fruit dealer at 123 Charles street and 59 Gorham street. A handsome baker wagon he had received from the factory and another carriage were totally destroyed, while one of his wagons on the outside was badly damaged. He figures that his loss will be about $400.

How the fire started is a puzzle.

FRENCH OFFICERS KILLED TODAY

Biplanes Collided With Terrific Force

DOUAI, France, June 19.—Captain Dubois and Lieut. Pelgman, both officers in the French army and trained aviators, met tragic deaths this morning when the biplanes they were piloting round the military flying ground collided with terrific force in mid air.

The two officers, who were close friends, were unable to perceive each other while flying through the early morning haze which was very dense in the vicinity of the aerodrome, where they started practising soon after day-break. As they turned a curve their machines collided with an awful impact as they were traveling at a high rate of speed. The wire stays and canvas wings became interlocked and the two biplanes crashed to the ground, where they were smashed into a mass of wreckage.

The large ledge, which for many years has been a landmark at the corner of Chelmsford and Sheldon streets is being removed and a sidewalk is being laid out.

Vida S. Walker is administratrix of his estate and she seeks to recover for the suffering and death of Mr. Hirst.

The cases were rather lengthy as there were a number of witnesses for both sides.

THE SILVER JUBILEE OF ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE

Reception to be Held Next Friday Evening—Exhibition of Work of the Pupils

Twenty-five years ago the Sisters of Charity came to the city of Lowell and established St. Peter's orphanage, and although they would prefer that no mention of the fact be made, a silver jubilee committee, with Miss Susan Flynn, chairman, was formed and a reception will be tendered the good women of Nazareth in recognition of the remarkable work accomplished by them since coming to this city.

The committee worked untiringly on the arrangements for the affair and planned to hold the reception and musical on May 30th, but owing to sudden illness breaking out at the institution, the event was postponed until Friday evening of this week. As the children were to have an entertainment of their own at which their work with the needle was to be exhibited to their friends, the handwork will be in evidence on Friday evening.

There are 33 children at the orphanage at the present time, this being the largest number ever registered at the institution. All are exceptionally clever with the needle and each will have an article to display at the reception.

The reception will be held in the assembly hall, from 7 to 9 o'clock, which will be decorated for the occasion. An excellent musical program will be given and the presentation to the sisters of the home will be the concluding feature.

The sisters and the members of the committee in charge of the affair are greatly pleased with the manner that the public assisted them in the arrangements and also for the very generous contributions received. The returns were gratifying to all concerned and the committee assure all that they highly appreciate the assistance of the people in general.

The members of the silver jubilee committee, who assisted and contributed for the reception are as follows:

NEW HAVEN, June 19.—Eight hundred and fifty-two degrees in course were granted by Yale university today at its annual commencement, held this morning in Wesley hall. Of this number 570 were in the two undergraduate departments and the others in the graduate or professional schools.

Among the names of those awarded the degree of master of arts appeared that of George Borup, Yale, 1907, who was associated with Peary in his Arctic explorations and who lost his life by drowning in Long Island sound off Crescent beach, Conn., or April 28 of the present year.

PRACTICE DRILL

BY THE MEMBERS OF ENGINE COMPANY 6

The members of Engine 6 went to Western avenue yesterday morning for a practice drill and did excellent work under the direction of District Chief Edward F. Saunders. Owing to the fact that property might be damaged by the water the firemen did not direct their hose over any building, but with a pressure of 280 pounds the stream was directed into the canal.

Last night Engine 6, Engine 2 and Truck 2 had a drill in Plain street and at this place, also, the men showed their ability in climbing the ladders and their ability to handle the hose.

SEN. ROOT CHOSEN CHAIRMAN OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION TAFT SHORT OF MAJORITY

CHICAGO, June 19.—In the first of the convention battles between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt yesterday the president won and lost. Sen. Root of New York, the Taft candidate for temporary chairman, was elected, but by a margin so narrow as to leave Mr. Taft himself in a minority.

The vote between Senator Root and the anti-Taft candidate, Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin, stood: Root 553; McGovern 502. The rest of the votes cast were scattered.

A bit of simple arithmetic will show where that vote leaves Mr. Taft's own candidacy.

Mr. Taft received the votes of seven Illinois delegates, eight Maryland delegates and three Oregon delegates who are under instruction by popular primaries to vote for Mr. Roosevelt when the balloting for president comes. There you have a total of 18 votes, which must be subtracted from Mr. Taft. That reduces the possible Taft vote to 535, which is precisely the number necessary to a choice.

Taft Weaker Than Root

It has always been assumed, however, that Mr. Root's candidacy for the temporary chairmanship was stronger than Mr. Taft's candidacy for the nomination. This was discounted by the Roosevelt management and conceded by the Taft leaders. The senator is admitted on all sides for his abilities and scores of delegates reluctantly voted against him and for a man they did not know in accordance with Mr. Roosevelt's command.

It has been seen that 18 members of three Roosevelt delegations refused to do it, but how many more in other delegations, aside from those of Illinois, Maryland and Oregon, who will be with Mr. Roosevelt on the main issue, refused to go with him on this subsidiary question and strike down the distinguished senator in his candidacy for a transient honor. It is impossible to estimate.

For instance, it must have been a hard trial for some of the 13 New Yorkers who voted for Mr. McGovern to go against their eminent colleague and it is easy to believe the Roosevelt assertion that there will be several more Roosevelt votes in the delegation when the ballot for president is taken. In fact, Mr. Roosevelt himself forecasted Mr. Root's election Monday night and conceded against him before the convention was called to order. He took care to warn his followers not to be discouraged by such an event, and told them he would be weaker on this test than on any that would follow.

Roosevelt Short of Majority

The Root vote, however, is the high-water vote of the Taft campaign. It is the biggest card in the pack. When the Taft men play the credentials committee report they cannot hope to do as well and they may not take the trick at all.

At least the Roosevelt delegations from California, Texas and Washington, which the steam roller crushed too early, will rise again and give the machine a worse hour than it had yesterday. It will be difficult for the Taft forces to hold a majority against some of these contests when the credentials fight comes upon the floor of the convention. If they should lose then all will be lost. For without the Texas or the Washington vote the president's cause would have been beaten yesterday.

Now what strength did Mr. Roosevelt show? There were 520 delegates who did not vote for Mr. Root. They are all anti-Taft. But on the first ballot 3 of them will be for Senator La Follette and 10 for Senator Cummins. That leaves 474 for Mr. Roosevelt.

To that total should be added, however, the 18 instructed Roosevelt men from Illinois, Maryland and Oregon, who went over to Mr. Root, which brings the Roosevelt strength up to 492, or nearly 50 short of a majority. He must make up the difference through gains from the Root vote.

But he will not have to win on the first ballot. The Taft candidacy is strictly a first-ballot proposition, but it is not so with Mr. Roosevelt. More than this, it is neither prudent nor necessary to say at the present writing, although it must be said that the Roosevelt people are visibly discouraged by the slight showing they made in the southern delegates.

MISSION A SUCCESS

CONDUCTED BY REV. FRIS. SULLIVAN AND McDERMOTT, O. M. I.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church, and Rev. James T. McDermott, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart church, returned home last evening from New London, Conn., where they preached a mission at St. Joseph's church. The church is one of the most beautiful in that section and overlooks the Thames river.

The mission occupied two weeks and was brought to a close Sunday evening. During the two weeks the newspapers of the city gave considerable space to accounts of the mission, and the services conducted by the missionaries, and it was pronounced the most successful mission ever conducted in the city. At all the services the congregations taxed the capacity of the edifice, and many conversions were reported.

TAYLOR IS GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS

He Drove Auto That Was in Collision

BOSTON, June 19.—After 2½ hours' deliberation a jury in the superior court today returned a verdict of guilty upon two counts charging Paul M. Taylor of Worcester with running away after damage to persons and property and disregard upon the other count in the indictment charging him with recklessly operating an automobile. Sentence was deferred.

The case is the outcome of an auto collision in Marlboro last September, when two persons were killed and two others injured. Taylor was tried for manslaughter in January last but the jury disagreed and the charge was abandoned.
